CALLES READY TO CRUSH REVOLT

Truce in Mexican Oil Law Controversy Near

U. S. POLICY IN NICARAGUA NOT CHANGED

Coolidge Justifies Occupation of Central American Country by Marines

OPPOSES 3 CRUISERS

Hot Session Develops in Senate Over Crisis in Relation with Latins

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Coolidge today struck back at two groups of his opponents who criticized him both for inadequate military preparedness and for alleged imperialism in Central America.

His official spokesman justified administration opposition to building three additional naval cruisers now on the ground that this country should lead voluntarily in stopping competitive armament races.

The spokesman justified occupation of Nicaragua on the ground that the Monroe Doctrine prevents European nations from protecting their interests in that country and obliges the United States to do so.

Arbitration is Proposed

Meanwhile, Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, introduced a resolution proposing arbitration of the Mexican oil land's dispute.

The difficulties with Mexico can be reduced to one question, the White House said.

Reasons for American action in Nicaragua, as previously stated in the "Mexican" message to congress, were given as:

Protection of American lives and property and defense of this government's acquired treaty rights to construct a Nicaraguan canal and establish naval bases.

No reference was made to the alleged "Mexican" fostered Bolshevik hegemony spectre, which a press association other than the United Press stated was behind the administration's Nicaraguan policy.

Protecting U. S. Interests

The president's direct understanding that the administration's efforts in Nicaragua are directed toward preventing injury to American interests, rather than to taking action after such injuries occur.

The presence of American troops and ships has prevented considerable bloodshed and saved the lives of many wounded on both sides, the spokesman said.

While unwilling to comment on the peace proposals of the American-recognized president, Diaz, the president was described as interested in any settlement which would secure tranquility for that country.

Charges that other nations are violating the 5-5-3 naval ratio established at the Washington Arms conference, which are being used to justify the increased naval building program, were denied on behalf of the president.

The 5-5-3 agreement referred only to capital ships and aircraft carriers and no nation intends to violate the treaty it was stated.

On Building Cruisers

If three additional cruisers are found to be necessary next year, they can be started then, without increasing the present navy budget, it was stated.

The senate this afternoon witnessed one of the tensest scenes this session, when Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, spoke on Mexico, attacking Catholics for what he termed incorrect propaganda on the Mexican religious situation. A large gallery followed his speech.

Utah Votes to Repeal Pact Approval

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 18.—The Auerbach bill, which provides for the repeal of Utah's ratification of the six-state Colorado river compact, passed the lower house late this afternoon. The bill passed the senate yesterday and now goes to Governor Dern for his signature.

U. S. MAY HALT PAYMENTS TO MRS. CHAPLIN

Government Income Tax Suit Likely to Block Alimony Awards

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Payment of all awards, including temporary alimony, in the Chaplin divorce suit, may be deferred for months, it was indicated here today, as the result of the government's suit to collect more than $1,000,000 from Charles Chaplin for alleged return of incorrect income tax statements.

Although Mrs. Chaplin was awarded $4000 a month, pending settlement of the divorce case, she may be forced to be practically penniless, if the government presses its rights in the case.

Samuel McNabb, U. S. district attorney, said today that the government's suit takes precedent over any of Mrs. Chaplin's claims and that the government's claims must be met before any funds are taken from the Chaplin properties for any other purposes.

With filing of notice of appeal from the order appointing receivers, Chaplin's counsel claimed the receivership would be suspended.

Following the sweeping victory of Mrs. Chaplin in court yesterday, the possibility of such action proved a decided boomerang. Attorney fees and all other awards cannot be paid until after the internal revenue collector's claims are settled, it was said.

Receivers in the hands of properties now in the hands of the receivers in the Chaplin case.

Lyndol L. Young, one of Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys, said he did not believe the government would tie up the Chaplin properties.

"I do not think," he said, "that the government would seek to deprive Mrs. Chaplin of what is coming to her. It is my belief that some sort of stipulation can be made with the government, which will permit Mrs. Chaplin to receive what she needs for herself and the children."

"In fact, I am positive, that such a stipulation will be made," he said.

Referring to a statement made by Chaplin in New York that he will fight the alimony award, Young said: "Let him come into court and fight it. We have a perfectly good order by Judge Guerin and it is now up to the court to decide."

In answer to report that counsel for Chaplin would have the alimony order set aside because Chaplin was not within the jurisdiction of California courts when the award was made, Young said:

"We can get personal service on him, or service by publication. In either case, the order stands."

Rumors that Chaplin would leave this country, were definitely set aside with the filing of the government's suit.

STORAGE OF RIVER FLOW EMPHASIZED

State Engineer Refers to Prado Project in Report To California Lawmakers

RETAIN WASTE WATER

Reservoir of Large Capacity Could Be Built at Low Cost, Is Assertion

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—A reservoir at the Prado site, near the entrance to Santa Ana canyon, could be erected at low cost, and provide large capacity storage, controlling the floods of Santa Ana river on the coastal plain, and storing a large amount of water that now runs into the ocean, according to the report of State Engineer Paul Bailey, to the state legislature.

"A plan for complete development and control of floods on the Santa Ana river is now in process of assembly through special investigations being carried out in co-operation with San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties," Bailey reported.

"Reservoir sites have been selected on all the tributaries of the Santa Ana river at locations that would control the floods as they spread on the valley floor."

"The co-ordinated plan proposes that reservoirs be constructed on all the principal streams and that they be operated both for conservation and flood control."

"The principal storage of water would be in the large natural underground basins on the lower reaches of the streams which are available. These offer a splendid opportunity for cheap storage in many basins."

The capacities of the reservoirs have not been finally determined, according to the state engineer, nor has any estimate been made of their cost. The co-ordinated plan, he says, will work in the same manner as the one planned for Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, where water is "borrowed" from the Sacramento for deficient areas in the lower valley.

MOODY SUCCEEDS 'MA' AS GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 18.—"The people in their sovereign right have elected another governor. . . . not only another man for governor, but they said they wanted a young man—frankly he was not my choice for governor."

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson thus officially welcomed Dan Moody, 33, as her successor as she stepped down from authority at noon here today.

At the conclusion of a brief speech, the retiring governor introduced Moody to the crowd, admonishing them to "Hear ye him!"

CREDENTIALS NOT OFFERED BY SMITH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Upon advice of Republican leaders, Senator-designate Frank L. Smith, Republican, Illinois, today decided to defer until tomorrow presentation of his credentials in the senate.

Within an hour after his arrival, Smith went into conference at the capitol with Senators Curtis, Kansas; Deneen, Illinois; and Reed, Pennsylvania, Republican leaders.

They advised him important business was on schedule in the senate for this afternoon and said, if he appeared to demand his seat, the schedule would be disrupted.

House Approves Enlarged Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The house today approved increase in the size of the army from 115,000 to 118,750 men. An amendment to the army appropriation bill, which would have kept the army at its present size of 115,000, instead of permitting the increase, was defeated, 65 to 22.

98 Freeze to Death on Russian Trains

MOSCOW, Jan. 18.—Dispatches from the province of Samara today said 98 persons had been found frozen to death aboard two railway trains that had been stalled in snowdrifts. Extremely heavy snowfall has been reported from that portion of the Volga river valley.

FLOOD OF 'PET' MEASURES DUE IN LEGISLATURE

Solons Expected to Turn Torrent Loose Before Adjournment

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—The senate today unanimously voted to adjourn Friday for the first half of the present legislative session, and reassemble in Sacramento, February 23. The resolution had previously passed the assembly.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Efforts of every legislator to get his "pet" bills before the lawmakers before the scheduled adjournment, January 21, were expected today to unleash a torrent of measures in both houses.

More than 60 bills for revision of California's criminal laws and procedure were expected today, in addition to the various measures for agricultural relief, including irrigation and marketing.

Only four days remain before the scheduled recess adjournment of the legislature. The date for closing was set by the assembly yesterday, and the resolution is now before the senate, which will hold it in abeyance until both houses indicate the progress they are making.

Adjournment Is Protested

Several assembliesmen are protesting against adjournment Friday, unless they get their bills out of the legislative counsel bureau in time for introduction before the recess.

Prospects of the appointment of William J. Cooper, San Diego school superintendent, as state superintendent of schools, are good, according to reliable reports at the capitol. Cooper is understood to have announced that Governor Young has offered the position to him. The change would mean a $4000 yearly loss in salary to Cooper, as his present position superintendency pays but $3500.

This announcement also clinches the report some time ago that Will C. Wood, present state superintendent of public instruction, would resign to be appointed by Young as state banking superintendent, to succeed John Franklin Johnson.

This would give Wood a salary of $10,000 a year, instead of $5000.

Named College President

Cooper formerly city school superintendent of Fresno, and was nominated by Wood for president of the San Jose Teachers' college. The Richardson appointees on the state board of education refused to confirm the appointment, so he joined the San Diego school system.

Legislation giving the California state compensation insurance fund the privilege of writing 100 per cent of the compensation insurance sold in the state may be proposed at the present session of the legislature, it was made known today, following the issuance of the annual report of the industrial accident commission.

Recommendation for such legislation was contained in the report of the commission, the report stating that "the commission feels that it is logical and entirely reasonable to propose that the fund be freed of its competitive claims and that it be given a monopoly of the workmen's compensation insurance coverage of this state."

President Urges Dam Legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—President Coolidge reiterated his hopes today that legislation on completion of the Boulder dam would be passed at this session of congress. His spokesman commented on the necessity of protecting the people of the Colorado river valley from floods, as well as developing barret lands in that region.

STRIFE OVER PETROLEUM IS RELIEVED

Calles Regime Will Allow Firms Involved in Dispute to Keep Operating

DECISION UP TO COURT

Demands of Companies to Be Temporarily Granted, Assurance in Mexico City

(By United Press)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 18.—A temporary truce in the oil law controversy seemed assured today, after a conference between Secretary of Industry Morones and attorneys for the petroleum companies.

While official comment was withheld, authoritative sources close to the oil group said the controversy has been temporarily sidetracked and danger of further dispute removed, pending settlement by the supreme court.

It was understood that, under the accord reached at the conference, the oil companies involved in the dispute have been assured that their demands will be temporarily granted "for all practical purposes" of operation.

It was said injunctions would be granted the oil companies by the government, either today or tomorrow, which will permit the companies to operate without interference under the disputed laws.

Whether such action would settle the issues advanced by the United States—namely, that the land and petroleum laws of January 1 are both confiscatory and retroactive—cannot be determined at present, it was said.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN STATE INCREASE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Accidental deaths and injuries in California during 1926 showed a large increase over the previous year, according to the report of the state industrial accident commission, made public today.

For the fiscal year ended June 30, there were reported to the commission 246,083 industrial injuries, of which 7100 resulted in deaths, permanent disabilities and temporary injuries lasting longer than the day of injury, amounted to 4737 cases.

The increase was attributed to the increased industrial activity and growth of the state, the commission reported.

Tabulating the injuries in industrial divisions, building construction headed the list, with a total of 14,060. Commercial enterprises was second, with 10,261, and agriculture was third, with 6452.

Building construction and public utilities each had 84 fatalities and engineering construction came next with a total of 79.

Joint Survey of Colorado Asked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A comprehensive survey of the lower Colorado river by a board of five engineers is asked in a joint resolution, introduced into the senate today by Senator Phipps, Republican, Colorado.

SENATE STARTS TO CARRY OUT DAUGHERTY DECISION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The senate today started to carry out the sweeping Mal Daugherty decision, in which the supreme court has determined that congressional investigating committees can force witnesses to appear and testify.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, announced that he plans to call Daugherty, brother of former Attorney General H. M. Daugherty, before the special committee which conducted the sensational investigation into the department of justice three years ago, and quiz him regarding those matters about which he refused to talk. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, now out of the senate was chairman of this committee, and Wheeler acted as prosecutor.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, announced he will summon before the campaign fund investigating committee several witnesses who refused to answer questions regarding the Illinois and Pennsylvania senatorial primaries.

British Order Marines Sent to China

LONDON, Jan. 18.—One thousand British marines at Chatham today were ordered to prepare for service in China. The admiralty announced the order, but did not intimate when the marines would embark.

The admiralty also announced that the first cruiser squadron, which has just arrived at Malta, had been ordered to proceed to the Far East. The squadron is composed of the Froisher, Delhi, Danae and Dragon. The Dauntless was to follow as soon as she had been refitted.

The measures, the announcement said, were purely defensive.

MARTHA C. HILL, EARLY SETTLER IN S. A., PASSES

Mother of First White Child Born in Santa Ana Succumbs

Mrs. Martha C. Hill, 81, mother of the first white child born in Santa Ana, died in her home here today.

Mrs. Hill, with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon sr., of the Bungalow court, was one of the earliest residents of Santa Ana. She played an important part in the founding of the city and in its early history.

Her death came peacefully, after a short illness. She died in her home at 460 West Eighth street.

A native of Missouri, where she was born on Dec. 1, 1846, Mrs. Hill, when a girl, came to California with her family, in 1861, just as the Civil war was starting.

West in Prairie Schooner

Robert English, her father, moved his family, consisting of four girls and eight boys, across the dangerous prairies of Texas, finally arriving at a place which is now Watsonville, after a long and tedious journey in a prairie schooner drawn by four mules.

It was at Watsonville, that Mrs. Hill was married, in 1858. Shortly afterward Mrs. Hill and her husband removed to Southern California, locating in Anaheim. A few months later, they located in Santa Ana. It was in 1859 that Santa Ana was founded by W. H. Spurgeon, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Hill, whose widow survives him and who was a sister of Mrs. Hill.

First White Child Born Here

Soon after coming to Santa Ana, a son, Lloyd L. Hill, now a resident of Long Beach, was born to the couple. He was the first white child born in Santa Ana after the town was founded.

Besides the son, Mrs. Hill is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walter Eberle, also of Long Beach, Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon is the only surviving sister. Two brothers, William English, of San Juan Capistrano, and Robert English, of Arroyo Grande, also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Winblier Mission. Funeral home at 10 a. m., Thursday, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

Senate Rejects Lausanne Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The senate late today defeated ratification of the Lausanne treaty. The vote was 50 for ratification to 34 against. A two-thirds vote is required to ratify treaties.

Former Empress Of Mexico Dying

BRUSSELS, Jan. 18.—Carlotta, former empress of Mexico, was dying today.

At 10:50 o'clock this morning, physicians said she was in agony and death was to be expected momentarily.

Carlotta, who was stricken with heart disease, gradually lost strength during the night. She is 58 years old.

ARCHBISHOP REPORTED AS REBEL CHIEF

Catholic Church Banner Raised by Insurrectos, Is Claim of Government

TROUBLE IN 12 STATES

Strong Force of Cavalry Ordered in Pursuit of Churchmen and His Band

(By United Press)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 18.—The scattered insurrection prevailing in 12 Mexican states today took its most ominous turn as the Mexican government prepared to crush the revolt, which it charged was being organized by Archbishop Francisco Orozco Jimenez.

For the first time since the Catholic church voiced its opposition to the religious laws, the banner of religion has been raised over the insurrectionists. It was charged by the government, which has not hesitated to show its extreme concern.

The Labor newspaper El Sol said that, after uniting more than 200 men under his banner, "Long Live Christ, Our King," Archbishop Jimenez, one of the most beloved prelates in Mexico, declared a revolt against the Calles government and is marshalling his forces to drive federal troops from their garrison in the central province of Jalisco.

General Revolt Feared

The government apparently was concentrating on Jalisco, fearful that a vigorous revolutionary movement in Mexico, declared a revolt against the Calles government and is marshalling his forces to drive federal troops from their garrison in the central province of Jalisco.

A strong force of cavalry, to augment the federal forces now serving in Jalisco, has been ordered in pursuit of the archbishop and his band. The government was in constant communication with the chief of operations there, who has been given orders to report each movement of the archbishop to the war department.

Despite the reports, however, vouched for by newspapers and the war department, Catholics in close touch with the episcopate insisted that the archbishop was in no way involved in the revolt. They said he fled from Guadalajara, a creek ago, following arrest, and he is now hiding in a small village in Jalisco.

They were confident that he would not break the orders of the episcopate by inciting an uprising.

Seditious Literature Spread

After the departure of the archbishop, El Sol said, this city was flooded with seditious literature. The people were assured, he had heard, that a large force of armed men and that he would war against the government under the campaign slogan used by the Mexican Catholics.

The first detachment of soldiers sent after the archbishop, according to the war department, encountered a small group of rebels, believed to have been members of his following, and dispersed them, taking several captives.

The prisoners said that the Jimenez force was armed with pistols, knives and old rifles, the war department announced.

Dynamite Blast Kills Two Men

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 18.—Two men were killed and the dynamite mixing plant of the Hercules Powder company, three miles south of Bessemer, was completely wrecked, when 1000 pounds of dynamite exploded this morning. Damage was estimated at $25,000. The two operators were the only occupants of the building at the time.

HAVE dogs souls? a contemporary asks. Of course, if by "soul" you mean soul. Which you probably don't. Does a dog see, feel, remember, hope, love, hate, rejoice, grieve and in his own way think? And do we not regard these as operations of the soul when we do them? Why should we consider them anything else when the dog does them? But if by "soul" you mean, not the living spirit, which we know by its works every day, but a dead shade, occupying some other and mysterious realm, an ethereal something, which leaves the body at death and yet remains ourselves—has a dog that? Who knows? The dog, at least, has no opinion on a mystery which his brain-organ has not equipped his mind to solve.

THEY still teach the theory of the "separation of powers" in most schools, and doubtless in some colleges. It is the business of Congress and the legislatures to make the laws; of the courts, to interpret them; and of the President and the Governors to enforce and administer them. The "separation" of these powers makes up the famous system of "checks and balances," under which, in orthodox theory, we are supposed to be living. Everybody learned this in school, and doubtless many people still believe it.

WELL, let us see what is actually happening:

There is a legislature in session, at Sacramento, "to make the laws," and a Governor, down stairs, to execute such laws as they make. But every important bill in that legislature is proposed by the Governor himself; the most conclusive argument, to get votes for a law, is that "the Governor wants it," the correspondents of all speakers of Congress, Young's "complete control" of the legislature as something welcome and normal; there are only two parties, pro-administration and anti-administration, and the latter, in this era of good will, has so far shown no disposition to make trouble. The Governor is required by law to introduce the budget, which is incomparably the most important measure, and actually he introduces indirectly nearly everything else.

This is the initiation of legislation. And in its final passage, he is pretty much the whole thing. Most of the bills will be passed in the final rush. The legislators, by log-rolling bargains, will pass a lot of bills which most of them want defeated. Then they will hand them all to the governor, who, with the advice of his kitchen cabinet and the whole staff, will then veto wholesale all of them that do not pass this final inspection. Both in proposing and in deciding legislation, the governor is the chief legislative body of California. And this has been the case under every governor, for at least 40 years.

THE same thing is happening in congress, and has happened in every administration, at least since Roosevelt. The budget system has transferred all of the initiative, and much of the final decision, in the congress to the president. The initiative in foreign relations was always in his hands, and these are an increasingly important part of legislative action. In the present squabble over enlarging the navy, it was the president's direct influence that prevented congress from being stamped by the jingoes. Even under President Coolidge, who believes and preaches the old theory that lawmaking is the function of congress and not of the president, he has not succeeded with all of his measures, but when he failed, it was because congress exercised the executive function of veto on his legislative proposals.

MEANTIME, the "independent" courts, whose one function is supposed to be to interpret such laws as the legislative departments make, have gone merrily on making laws themselves, until now "court-made law" constitutes the major part of our jurisprudence. And congress and the legislatures, by "year-marking" the details of appropriations by supervisory and investigating committees, and in a multitude of other ways, have invaded the executive function. In the city governments the distinction was repealed long ago, even in theory, and in state and national government it has ceased to operate.

Yet we continue to teach it, and to imagine that we believe in it.

New Move Starts To Boost Gas Rate

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—A new attempt to raise gas rates in and around Los Angeles was announced today.

The state railroad commission granted the Los Angeles Gas and Electric company, the Southern California Gas company and Southern Counties Gas company permission to appear before the commission at Los Angeles, February 2, to present arguments for a rehearing on their request for increased rates. The commission recently denied the rate raises.

ALLEGED ERRORS IN JUSTICE
COURT TRIAL POINTED TO BY DEFENSE IN GUN CLUB CASE

Pointing out claimed defects in the criminal complaint against the gun clubs and alleged errors committed at their trial in justice court by both judge and jury; also stressing the beneficial uses made of water from artesian wells upon the gun club premises, attorneys for the West Shore Gun Club and the Blue Wing Shooting Club today continued their drive for reversal of their convictions of water waste.

L. A. West and George Adams, counsel for the clubs, have had the floor, since the hearing on their appeals opened yesterday before Superior Judge Homer G. Ames. Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett has been awaiting his turn to reply, which may come this afternoon.

Adams, late yesterday and today, dwelt upon the benefits of varied type that have accrued from the use of artesian water by the gun clubs; benefits which, he said, prevented such use from being designated as either waste or unnecessary use of the water. His argument covered a wide field of discussion, including one unexpected point.

Law Recognizes Beauty
The law, he said, recognizes that beneficial uses encompass beauty and recreation as well as finance and economic questions. Benefits derived from the use of water on the gun club preserves, he declared, need not be confined to a matter of dollars and cents. If this water beautifies the land, it is beneficial. If it provides recreation, it is beneficial, he argued. Adams pointed out that, during his career as a hunter and sportsman, he has donated at least $10,000 to charitable institutions and to individuals in the form of ducks shot on gun club preserves. He cited that as an example of beneficial use for the artesian water.

Returning to the economic side of the question, he argued that a very important beneficial use made of the water was the reclamation of alkali land by the washing process. He declared that the gun clubs have been steadily pushing off their leases as the land was reclaimed and found productive, where it had been worthless for many years.

Prosecution Evidence Attacked
He attacked the evidence of the prosecution as insufficient and declared that the evidence produced by the gun clubs was sufficient to prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that no offense had been committed. He added, with some sarcasm, that the trials were the first in which he had participated where the burden of proof had been shifted to the defense in that type of case.

Adams and West both contended that the jury, which, in a justice court, is made the sole judge of not only the evidence but also the law, might give a correct verdict on the facts but, at the same time, might err on the law of the case.

Both attacked, as error, the comment of the trial judge at one point in the West Shore Gun Club trial, where, in sustaining a prosecution objection to evidence offered by the defense, the court remarked: "That's my idea of it."

Reference had been made to the basis for the prosecutor's objection and was declared by the gun club attorneys to be a comment on the evidence.

Judge Ames, at this point in the argument, suggested that any judge, in ruling upon an objection, was forced to express an opinion.

FREE STATE PARTIES
PREPARE FOR FRAY

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—All parties in the Irish Free State are preparing for the general election, which under the constitution must be held this year. The date has not been fixed, but it is certain that the election will not be held before Easter, and the common belief is that the election will be held in June or July. The government party is active throughout the country and a campaign is likely to be started this year, when leading members of the government will tour the constituencies.

Labor Party in Active Fight
The Labor party also is very active. Since last July, between 130 and 150 local organizations have been instituted in support of Labor candidates, and the party hopes to be able to put at least fifty strong men in the field.

The National League, under the leadership of Capt. William Redmond and Thomas O'Donnell (formerly a member of the Irish Nationalist party in the house of Commons) is making considerable progress. It has made opposition to compulsory Irish an important plank in its political platform, and on this account alone it is gaining widespread support. The party organizers are confident they will be able to return at least twenty members to the next Dail.

Farmers Short on Funds
Thus far, little has been done by the Farmers' party, which suffers through lack of funds; but De Valera's group, Fianna Fail, is working hard and is said to be hopeful. Its most formidable rival is the People's party, headed by Mr. Magennis, of the National University, which, although it professes republican principles has no objection to attendance in the national parliament. Miss Mary McSwiney's small party of irreconcilable republicans seems to have split into three minor groups. It is virtually negligible as far as the election is concerned and is badly in want of funds.

The government party seems to be in a fairly strong position, but high taxation and the government's policy of compulsory Irish have affected its popularity.

Probably few people know that Lord Portmahon, the "Raucher Earl" who lived in Wyoming before he succeeded to his title several years ago, added the word "wallop" to the dictionary. One of his ancestors was Sir John Wallop, a British soldier of distinction. Sir John inflicted some heavy defeats on the French in the old wars, and thus arose the phrase, "Let's wallop them."

ment liens, as he will not be permitted to leave the jurisdiction of the federal courts until after the income tax case is settled.

Counsel for Mrs. Chaplin secured heavily against the actor on the hearing for temporary alimony, with attorneys for Chaplin failing to make any attempt to stem the tide. Developments in the case, all of which favored Mrs. Chaplin, were as follows:

1. Retroactive for one month, $4000 monthly alimony was granted Mrs. Chaplin.
2. Charles Spencer Chaplin Jr., aged 18 months, and Sidney Earle Chaplin, 9 months, were given in the custody of their mother, pending decision in the suit.
3. Chaplin was ordered to pay a premium of $2150 for the $300,000 receivership bonds.
4. A sum of $4000 was ordered to be paid her attorneys at once.
5. A restraining order prohibiting Chaplin from seeing his children or "annoying" his wife, was made effective until the conclusion of the case.
6. Receivers were given permission by the court to open the vaults at the Chaplin studios at once.
7. Sums granted were ordered to be paid from money held by the receivers.

CHAPLIN TO FIGHT
AWARD OF ALIMONY

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Charlie Chaplin today announced, through his attorney, that he will fight the alimony award granted his wife, Lita Grey, in Los Angeles, yesterday.

Mrs. Chaplin, in the first move in her suit for divorce against the comedian, was granted $4000 a month alimony and $4000 for counsel fees.

Nathan Burkan, attorney for Chaplin, was emphatic in a statement today that Mrs. Chaplin had no claim on Chaplin's corporate properties.

"It's part of a cooked up play to get Chaplin's money," Burkan asserted, in protesting against what he termed the illegality of the receivership appointed for the Chaplin properties.

He denied that Chaplin had refused to support his wife or two children.

In fact, Burkan claimed, Chaplin offered $500,000 to his wife before he left Los Angeles, only to have it refused by her attorneys.

Meanwhile, the comedian was recuperating rapidly from the nervous breakdown which forced him to bed upon his arrival here from the west. His physician declared Chaplin probably will be able to receive visitors by next Monday.

Chaplin and Burkan may leave for Los Angeles by Sunday, Burkan told the United Press today. They want to be at the scene of action as soon as possible to prepare for the coming legal battles over the children and fortune of the screen comedian.

Chaplin's recovery from his nervous breakdown of last week was almost complete by today, Burkan said, but he was still too weak to get out of bed. He will remain in bed "a few more days," Burkan added.

The ban against keeping Chaplin informed of the developments in the actions against him has been lifted by the physician and Chaplin has already been informed of the court's order in Los Angeles, yesterday, fixing temporary alimony for his wife.

"He received the information without comment," Burkan said.

and there was a ripple of applause, interspersed with slight hissing—an unusual outburst for the dignified upper house. Heflin virtually challenged the press to print his whole speech, intimating omission might bring further observations from him.

Calvin Coolidge is not going to march an army into Mexico over a controversy relating to religion and nobody is going to let him do it if he tries," Senator James E. Reed, Democrat, Missouri, declared in the senate, following charges by Senator Heflin that the Knights of Columbus are "attempting to foment war with Mexico."

The opposition, led by Senator Borah, is concentrating on the idea of submitting the Mexican oil land dispute to neutral arbitration. This proposal has made no headway with the administration. But persons close to President Coolidge, such as Charles Beecher Warren, former ambassador to Mexico, urge adjudication of actual oil claims by the present United States-Mexican General Claims commission.

The state department meanwhile is not contemplating war with Mexico under any circumstances. But in an extremely it will recall Ambassador Sheffield and lift the arms embargo, as desired by Mexican counter-revolutionists, according to informed persons. Many believe this would lead to the overthrow of the Calles government.

TWO FACTIONS
IN FIGHT OVER
ROAD DISTRICT

Residents of Sunset Beach, divided into two factions, today battled before the county supervisors over the proposal to form a road improvement district and carry out a $79,000 project for paving and a board walk along the beach.

Both factions were well represented and filled with antagonism when the hearing took place. When the noon recess arrived, with both sides still going strong, Chairman William Schumacher adjourned the hearing to 3 p. m.

Opponents of the proposal asked questions about who would take the idea of the pavement after it was built, indicating that they felt the county not only should construct the pavement, but maintain it afterward. They bitterly opposed the idea of a board walk.

J. A. Armitage, pioneer resident of Sunset Beach, led the petitioners. "The idea of the petitioners," he said, "is to make a community out of Sunset Beach and to excuse us for living for 20 years upon the only dump in Orange county."

Speakers for both sides were heartily applauded for their sentiments by their respective followers.

Drastic change in the lighting of picture sets for filming purposes will be the next important step in the advancement of the celluloid industry. High-powered incandescent bulbs will replace the carbon lights now used. Experiments in this lighting change have been carried on by the Metropolitan Studios and General Electric company for the past year. To date they have not succeeded in making a practical bulb that will give off sufficient light. But this is bound to come. And when it does, pictures will be photographed better and at less cost.

Practically all screen players have at least one outstanding characteristic. But of all characteristics, Harry Myers claims the most unusual. It is a black eye. In 30 per cent of his pictures, Harry appears with a genuine discolored optic.

A few weeks ago the Exhibitor's Herald, theater trade magazine, took a vote from more than 2100 theater owners to determine the popularity of the stars. In a more recent issue, the magazine published the box office value of directors. Cecil B. DeMille heads this list, with D. W. Griffith second and James Cruze third.

Betty Bronson, the beautiful young girl who became famous overnight as a result of her work in "Peter Pan" a year ago, will be seen soon as a star. Famous Players-Lasky have cast her as the star in "Ritzy," an original story by Elinor Glyn, which will go into production late this month.

Five years ago Ramon Novarro was working as an usher at the Majestic theater in Los Angeles. He was then known as Ramon Samaniego, his real name.

Education via the celluloid reels will soon become a reality. A series of fifty films is being produced by the Eastman Kodak company. Twenty of these will be ready for release in January. They will be on the subject of geography, health and general science.

When Gertrude Short and Percy Pembroke were married a year ago, they had a jazz wedding. Instead of the usual solemn music, a jazz orchestra was engaged for the occasion. Their marriage has been a much of a success that they celebrated their first anniversary in the same manner the other night—with a jazz party.

Once there was an assistant director who said "no"—which is quite an achievement in this industry of "yes men." The man was Richard Rosson and the "no" was his reply when he was offered his first job as director. "I wanted to wait until I knew that I could put my first picture over with a 'bang,'" explains Rosson. And Rosson did just that. His first picture, Gloria Swanson in "Fine Manners," was a huge success. Now he's directing Adolphe Menjou.

The hapless heirs and heiresses of the film colony, saw Christmas for the first time this year. They were Sally Anne Carewe, Marcella Bushman, Barbara Anne Blue, Donald Hughes, Marie Reachi, Carey Anthony Wilson, Sydney Earle Chaplin, Helene Beverly Carr, David Herbert Rawlinson and Pamela Behn.

Tom Gallery, husband of Zasu Pitts, who for the last two years has been match-maker for the Hollywood Legion stadium, has decided that the boxing club doesn't keep him sufficiently busy. So he has gone back into pictures as a leading man.

Colleen Moore has a doll house which she furnished herself and with which she amuses herself during dull hours. Milton Silla likes to putter around in his garden. Lewis Stone never misses a summer session of an officers' training camp. Billie Dove goes in for swimming, riding and golf—all learned before the camera. So go their hobbies.

In 1915 Count Ilya Tolstoy embarked upon his first venture in a small Russian village. He was the director and played an important role. The townspeople were used for "atmosphere." Today Tolstoy is an important figure in the film capital. He is a technical advisor for the filming of "Resurrection."

For One Five-Thousandth of Channel Swim Money!

If George Young wanted to, he could come down to Peterson's and get five thousand pairs of the smartest shoes made with his swim prize money. Wouldn't that be nice?

However, that would make quite a dent in our stock of these men's shoes in smart, exclusive styles, for $5.00, and we want EVERYBODY to have a chance at them.

Understand, that $5.00 is one of Peterson's standard prices in men's shoes—a definite, distinctive line, developed with great care to sell at $5.00.

If that's YOUR price, you can get the style you want, jazzy or conservative, or just a straight good-looking shoe, high or low, black, tan or brown. And you'll like it.

DEFEATED RECALL ELECTION
CANDIDATE HURLS CHARGES,
DEMANDS RESULT REVERSAL

Making sensational charges of corruption and intimidation in connection with the recent recall election in Seal Beach, Walter R. Stortz, defeated candidate for city trustee at the election, today had a suit on file in superior court, demanding reversal of the official result, which kept Trustees R. E. Dolley, J. R. Johns and C. O. Wheat in their seats.

Dolley, Johns and Wheat were the targets of the recall movement at the election on January 7. The official count showed that they defeated the recall candidates, Lee C. Benno, Adolph E. Johnson and Stortz, by a majority ranging from 17 to 25 votes. Wheat led Stortz by 25 votes, Dolley had a margin of 22 over Benno, while Johns had 17 to spare over Johnson. Such was the official returns, as canvassed by the board of trustees on January 10. At that time the board, of which Dolley, Johns and Wheat constituted a majority, passed a resolution declaring themselves retained in office.

Not True Count?
But, according to Stortz, the official count was not the true and legal count. The defeated candidate accuses Dolley, Johns and Wheat of selecting their own election board from their partisans, of electioneering near the polls, of their ununiformed officers and intimidating the voters by challenging and cross-examining them when they came to vote. To avoid humiliation, many recall supporters declined to vote, Stortz claims. The voting booths, he says, were not screened, as required by law, so that the public could tell how each voter voted. This aided the alleged intimidation, it was said.

Further, Stortz charges, he printed the state, as required by law, and were confusing, so that many of those who intended to vote for Benno, Johnson and Stortz voted for the incumbent trustees by mistake. Others voted illegal ballots because of the confusing situation, it was charged.

The partisan election officials, however, according to Stortz, counted the illegal ballots of their own faction and threw out, not only the illegal ballots of the other side, but also many of the legal ballots.

Says Officers Helped Voters
On election day, the election officers went into the voting booths with the voters and aided them in marking the ballots, in defiance of the law, it is claimed. Stortz asks the court to set aside the city council's resolution of January 10, declaring Dolley, Johns and Wheat elected, and to order them into court to show cause why the official result of the election should not be reversed.

Attorneys Charles D. Swanner and Roland Thompson represent Stortz in the case.

OPPOSES MODIFICATION
Santa Ana, Calif., Jan. 18, 1927. Editor Register: Will you please allow me a little space in your valuable paper on the prohibition question? The liquor interests are at work again in our city. One of their representatives called on me this morning, soliciting my signature to a petition to modify our laws giving the government power to permit the sale of liquor. This looks like a wedge to annul the 18th amendment.

Now if we do not keep up the fight, and be ever watching, we will be deceived into the wrong step. No country is progressing as the U. S. A. has done since the open saloon was banished. What are we going to do now? Shall we fight for the safety of the coming generations? May we keep our intelligence!

Yours sincerely,
W. R. DUBOIS,

SPEAKER TELLS TRUTHS ABOUT
EMERALD ISLE

Ireland, as a land of romance and poetry, a country of early culture and civilization, with a background of literature and religion and art, reaching back beyond the Middle Ages, instead of the Ireland of popular tradition, of "paddy whack," free-for-all-fights and "pig in the parlor," was the picture drawn, in eloquent and convincing manner, by James H. Shaw, traveler and lecturer, in his address, last night, at the Y. M. C. A.

A capacity audience greeted the visitor, who was introduced by Ralph C. Smalley, general secretary of the association.

"If I were to attempt merely to name the great names of history, art, music, literature and religion, which have been Ireland's contribution to the progress of the world, it would take more than the entire time allotted me," said Shaw.

Great Irish Names
"Names like Thomas Hood, Parnall, Goldsmith, Father Meethew, O'Connell, O'Connor, Brian Boru and scores of others mark the pages of Ireland's record and their works and words live in the hearts of men who seldom pause to reflect that all of these were just Irishmen."

As a lecturer, Shaw tells things in a very human manner, weaving the homely details of life and the heart interest of his observations in a way that makes his listeners feel that they really have met and known the people of whom he speaks.

He has toured Ireland extensively, on foot, on bicycle, in a jaunting car and by other means. He has been able, by reason of personal acquaintances and friendships to come into intimate touch with life on the Emerald Isle. He made it clear that his lecture was in no sense an appeal or propaganda, either religious or political.

He merely was trying to tell the truth about the Irish people and their beautiful island, he said. By his detailed description of scenes and events, as well as by his pictures, he was able to hold the undivided interest of his audience to the last word.

A coincidence of the evening was the presence, in the audience, of several persons who had known Shaw's father, a pioneer Methodist preacher in Illinois, years ago, and of others who formerly attended Illinois Wesleyan university, of Bloomington, the lecturer's "Alma mater."

The Oklahoma State league will be a newcomer in the ranks of organized baseball next spring, if plans now in the making are carried through.

TRY THIS FOR A COLD - IT'S FINE!

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe colds or grippe in few hours

You can end grippe and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs, by taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. Besides, it is an effective laxative. It keeps the bowels open carrying off the poisons that are making you sick.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only thirty-five cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Adv.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Quickly Corrected by an Uncooked Food—Sap of Mexican Maguey Plant

serious disorders—diabetes, Bright's disease, apoplexy, heart trouble, etc. Doctors and sufferers are now successfully using a remarkable raw food for correction of these diseases.

Not a Drug—Not a Medicine
Aguel, raw concentrated Maguey plant sap from Mexico, has relieved practically every case of high blood pressure treated. Usually acts quickly. It contains no drugs or alcohol. The sap has been used for 1000 years in Mexico. European and American specialists sent wealthy patients there to drink it. Now a new process makes it available in U. S.

CASH IS GIVEN ASSOCIATION TO HELP CRIPPLES

In the last few months, the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange County has quietly gone about raising funds for its 1927 budget, the total of which has been increased to meet the demand of suffering childhood. It was announced today by association officials. The association receives funds from the Community Chest of Santa Ana and Tustin, hence the campaign conducted by the association has covered all parts of the county except the communities operating the chest. It was pointed out, however, that there have been several voluntary and unsolicited contributions from Santa Ana people some of whom either are interested in child welfare work, or in the progress of individual patients.

In this connection, the directors special mention of George S. Briggs, Santa Ana, who has contributed generously to the funds of the association.

Following is an incomplete list of recent contributors to the fund: L. B. Harris, H. Sherwin, J. H. Dan-iel, Walter G. Evans, E. E. Beas-ley, S. S. Williamson, Ebbell club, City Nurse association, Mrs. Phyllis McKee, Martin L. Erickson, Ami Tai circle, Eastern Star; A. M. Thompson, H. W. Schultz, R. H. Biggs and A. J. Kelley, all of Fullerton.

T. B. Talbert, Fred H. Pope, S. E. Hearn, Mrs. F. L. Isbell, Harry A. Bowman, all of Huntington Beach; Paul E. Kresley, Harry Welch, and Floyd E. Gage, all of Newport Beach and Balboa; C. W. Rutledge, Mrs. W. E. Hurst, and the Community Christmas fund, all of Brea.

W. E. Renner, Mrs. F. Pressel, L. A. Banner, Mary Millerick, Girls' Friendly society, Frank K. Day, F. A. Youngbluth, Legion auxiliary, Delphian society, E. P. Hagood, Emil Tittman, Edward Wagner, American Legion, Dean Love, Robert Owen, A. G. Wright, Women's Relief corps, Gred H. Weisel, and Knights of Columbus, all of Anaheim.

David M. Armstrong, Costa Mesa; R. E. Gross, August Elitiste, K. E. Watson, A. H. Payne, Charles F. Havens, Mrs. G. E. Ryan, Legion auxiliary, D. F. Campbell, Red Cross chapter, J. F. Craemer, all of Orange.

H. G. Heisler, Laguna Beach; A. S. Bradford, and Mrs. Tom McFadden, Placentia; C. D. Tiffany, Buena Park; Earl S. Morrow, Mrs. Ada A. Bowers, Charles W. Bowers, Girls' Friendly society, Daniel S. Halladay, Mrs. E. D. White, Thomas H. Rowland, James H. Harding, and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Briggs, all of Santa Ana.

Lions club, Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Pettis, Laguna Beach, Eastern Star, Buena Park; Henry A. McClatchie, Yorba Linda; Fraternal Brotherhood, Anaheim; Business and Professional Women's club, Anaheim; and J. R. Woodcock, Olinde.

BIG AUDIENCE WILL HEAR BAND CONCERT

The program for the free concert tonight, in the high school auditorium, by the Santa Ana municipal band, will open with "Il Guarany," a brilliant overture by Carl Gomez, Brazilian composer, and will be followed by "Sweethearts," by the American composer, Victor Herbert.

Emphasizing the fact that the concert is free and provided from the fund created by the tax ap- proved by the voters last May, D. C. Cianfoni, director, said that the program arranged is one of the best the band ever has presented to a Santa Ana audience.

"The two groups of songs to be sung by Madame Helen Stair will be real features of the program," the director said.

The doors will open at 7:30 p. m., and the program will begin at 8 o'clock. It is expected that the auditorium will be crowded with music lovers of Santa Ana and vicinity.

Suit to Foreclose Mortgage Is Filed

F. E. Farnsworth, of Santa Ana, has filed suit in superior court against Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kolberg, and other defendants, to foreclose a $15,000 mortgage upon several parcels of property, aggregating about 35 acres, belonging to the Kolbergs. Farnsworth asks the court to appoint a receiver for the property, pending a decision in the law suit. He also asks judgment for $1185.48, which he claims to have paid out in taxes upon the property. Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, Santa Ana, represent him.

MAYOR BREAKS GROUND FOR NEW $28,000 P. E. DEPOT

Mayor Frank Purinton turned the first spade of dirt, in the presence of prominent Santa Anans and representatives of the Pacific Electric railway, at the ground breaking exercises for the new $28,000 P. E. depot, to be built on East Fourth street, Santa Ana. Mayor Purinton, in the above picture, is shaking hands with T. J. Day, freight traffic manager of the Pacific Electric company.

Prominent Santa Anans and Company Officials Attend Exercises

Ground breaking exercises for the new $28,000 Pacific Electric depot, to be built on East Fourth street, at Mortimer, were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. City officials, members of Santa Ana civic organizations and representatives of the Pacific Electric took part in the exercises.

Mayor Frank Purinton, representing the city of Santa Ana, turned the first shovel of dirt and extended his congratulations to T. J. Day, freight traffic manager for the Pacific Electric railway.

For years, Santa Ana has sought a Pacific Electric depot. A determined effort to secure the building was undertaken during the last year by the city planning commission, headed by Col. S. H. Finley.

Construction work will be started immediately, according to Sam Heckart, Santa Ana builder, who was awarded the general contract. The structure will be completed in about three months, it was said. According to the plans, the depot will be a one-story building, extending the length of the block from Fourth street to Third street, with the Pacific Electric tracks on the east.

Two business offices will be opened in the building. One will be occupied by the American Railway Express company.

Razing of the old P. E. freight station on the building site already is under way.

At completion of construction, a grand opening, to which citizens of Santa Ana will be invited, will be held, it was announced by J. C. Metzgar, member of the city planning commission.

Those present at the ground breaking, as representatives of the Pacific Electric company, were T. J. Day and D. W. Layne, freight traffic managers; E. C. Thomas, general agent; Ed Clark, superintendent, and J. P. Gould, assistant engineer.

City officials and other prominent Santa Anans at the ceremony were Mayor Frank Purinton, Col. S. H. Finley, J. C. Metzgar, H. D. Meyers, W. S. Decker, George Dunton, Nick Luxembourg, John Cubbon, W. E. Gates, Walter Collins, J. E. Live- way, J. E. Liebig, Amos Cox, H. B. Van Dien, H. W. Smith, Ridley Smith, Max Reinhaus, G. W. Prince, C. C. Schultz, S. W. Sutton, George Raymer, Charles Chapman, J. S. Smart, J. T. Wilson, Walter Moore, C. E. Stewart, Sam Heckart, Fred Eley and Albert Hill.

CYPRESS MAN AGAIN TANGLES WITH LAW

Charlie Gillis, 44, Cypress resident, who has a habit of becoming entangled with the law over alleged violations of the national prohibition laws, is in "ditch" again.

He was arrested last night by D. D. Adams, deputy sheriff, on a charge of sale of intoxicating liquor.

Gillis was released from jail the last time on November 9, on $1000 cash bail. His arrest, on that occasion, also was on a liquor charge. The case was dismissed several days ago, when Otto Jacobs, his attorney, filed a writ charging that information in the case had not been filed in the 30-day period required by law.

Adams' charge of sale is supported by a number of "prior convictions," the officer said. Gillis was freed early today, when he made bail of $1000.

Amateur as well as professional sports basked in an increased popular interest during the year 1926. The track and field season was a record-smasher. Golf drew bigger galleries and larger crowds than ever before. Tennis tightened its hold on popularity. Schoolboy athletics had a boom year, and football exceeded the wildest expectations.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, who as baseball commissioner finds the tidy sum of $65,000 in his yearly pay envelope, began his career as a grocery clerk in Logansport, Ind., at a wage of $4 a week.

ITALY SUBJECT OF ADDRESSES AT LATIN CLUB

Accounts of Italy, as it appears today, quite different from the time of the Caesars, were given last night by Miss Myrtle Martin, T. G. Glenn and Fred Burlew, who recently toured Europe, before the students of the Latin club, of the Santa Ana polytechnic high school, meeting in the "Y" campus hut.

Miss Martin spoke on Florence and Venice. The experiences of going down into the crater of Mt. Vesuvius and of visiting the ruins of Pompeii were recounted by Glenn. Burlew told his impressions of Rome.

A student quartet, composed of David Roberts, Terry Stephenson, Miss Marian Bruner and Miss Dorothy Diehl, sang, accompanied by Miss Mary Bruner. Vocal solos were sung by Miss Marian Bruner and Maurice Phillips, Santa Ana musician.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Eleanor Crookshank, consul of the Latin club.

Honored guests were Principal D. K. Hammond, Miss Lulu B. Finley, Miss Florence Cline, Miss Myrtle Martin and T. H. Glenn. Miss Josephine Arnoldy, Latin club advisor, assisted in arranging the program. The decorations were provided by Miss Irene O'Brien. The refreshments committee was composed of Miss Alberta Broomell, Miss Agnes Steward and Miss Carnelle Swain.

Optician Filling Jail Engagement

To fill a five-day engagement with Orange county jailers, the appointment having been made by Justice Kenneth Morrison, W. J. Davis, 27, San Pedro optician, entered the county jail last night. Davis was arrested on the state highway, last week, by George Stinson, state traffic officer, who charged him with speeding 50 miles an hour. In Morrison's court, Davis pleaded guilty and the jail sentence was suggested by the justice. Davis will be released Friday morning.

AUTHOR-TRAVELLER TALKS TO STUDENTS

World questions, as well as individual problems, can best be solved in discussions among small groups of congenial students, Allen Hunter, traveler and author, declared last night at a meeting of the Santa Ana junior college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., in the city "Y" building.

Hunter told of his experiences with groups of students in China. "The students are absolutely open and sincere in their discussions. They seek the solutions for problems that face them by focusing the thought of the group on questions before them," Hunter said.

About 35 students of the Santa Ana junior college attended the meeting. Louis Timson, swimmer, because of an unavoidable delay was unable to be present at the meeting to tell about the William Wrigley sea derby.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

Well-Planned Surprise Honors Birthday of Young Matron

One of the most successful surprises imaginable was that planned and carried out Saturday evening by Ernest Winbiger, complimenting Mrs. Winbiger's birthday and enjoyed by a group of young married people.

The guests were all taken into the confidence of their host and assembled at his invitation, at the Garden Grove Inn where they remained in concealment until the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Winbiger, ostensibly to enjoy a little "dinner a deux" in quiet celebration of the birthday anniversary. The honoree's surprise when her friends entered the room in a laughing group, was a compliment to her husband's skill in planning.

All were then directed to a room where a special table was awaiting them, a table gay with flowers and all in readiness for serving a delectable chicken dinner in several courses, the final one offering a towering birthday cake baked by the management in honor of Mrs. Winbiger.

The anniversary was recognized by the guests also who showered attractive gifts on the honoree and by her husband whose chief gift was a small package which when opened, disclosed twenty crisp new five-dollar bills.

Mr. Winbiger's resourcefulness was proven when he suggested a return to the charming Spanish home in Tustin, for he had arranged for the placing of card tables during their absence, and everything was in readiness for the bride. He had also selected attractive prizes and these were awarded at the close of the playing to Mrs. Jack Wallace and to Horace Snow.

With the serving of cake and ices, was conceived an idea for further celebration and the entire party embarked in waiting machines for the beach where they joined the crowds assembled to watch the finish of the channel swim.

Those enjoying the various features of the unique birthday celebration included in addition to the host and honoree, Mr. and Mrs. Winbiger, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Preston, Mr. and Mrs. James Livsey, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holmes Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallace of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marsile, Mr. and Mrs. William Maag, Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Edgar.

STAGE and SCREEN

BY GENE COHN
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Broadway weekly news reel: The year's crop of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer farm here fruit in two premieres, "The Fire Brigade" and "Tell It to the Marines."

With film super-productions occupying a growing percentage of the big Broadway playhouses, there is good reason for the play managers, whose productions fall daily, to scratch their heads. At the present moment there are the following pictures running at $2 prices and confident of lengthy runs:

"The Big Parade," "What Price Glory," "The Better 'Ole," "Michael Strogoff," "Potemkin," "Beau Geste," "Tell It to the Marines," "The Fire Brigade," "Old Ironsides" and "Don Juan." And three or four more scheduled for next month.

Now, of the two Metro specials, the most important news seems to lie in the return of Charlie Ray. After "The Fire Brigade," in which the once adored Charlie plays the "town boob," there can be no doubt regarding his comeback. He will become as steady a performer as in those days before financial disaster overcame him.

The picture itself will take them out of their seats in Hank Center as well as Broadway. In spite of all its stereotypes, its sentimentalisms and its terribly familiar story, there is a thrill in the battles with flames such as few pictures afford. It is right out of the old hokum bucket, yet I defy you not to like it.

I can't say so much for "Tell It to the Marines." Despite the excellence of Lon Chaney and William Haines, despite the splendid Chinese battle in the final ten minutes, despite the acclaim of many of the Manhattan critics, it seemed to me pretty dull on the whole. Full hours are dragged with pranks played upon a new marine and there were spots where one felt like leaping to his feet and shouting "I don't believe it!"

One is asked to believe, for instance, that a Marine, on the march, would drop completely out of the ranks to run to a pretty girl who was watching them go by and that the squad commander would leave his men to go looking for the lost one. That, upon finding the wanderer, the commander would then stop for a chat himself. Such things would not aid the much-touted morale of the "devil dogs."

And there is a south sea scene, wherein Carmel Myers is asked to make up as a Polynesian and mix with honest-to-goodness natives, with results that are almost ludicrous.

On the other hand there is much to entertain and, if the producers would see fit to cut this down to program-size, they would have a sure-fire, snappy program picture.

Dinner Guests Enjoy Evening of Dancing At Smart Hotel

Dining and dancing at Hotel Virginia in Long Beach, was the pleasant entertainment planned by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Nau for the members of the informal dancing club to which they belong, the affair being an event of Saturday night at the smart resort hotel.

One long table was arranged for the Santa Ana group which numbered forty-two including the hosts. The table was beautifully arranged with a huge mound of roses, fern and pink sweet peas in the center, with smaller mounds of pink roses and sweet peas combined with maidenhair fern. Chic hats, hosiery and slippers were harmonizing accessories and a handsome fur coat completed her costume.

A honeymoon to be spent in Los Angeles, San Diego, Palm Springs and other southern points of interest, will be followed by a return to this city where the young people will have a charming home at 1610 French street. In it will be placed the many handsome gifts showered on them by interested friends.

Upon their return, Mr. Fluor will resume his duties as secretary for the Fluor Construction company of which his father is president.

Gift Shower Planned For Newly-weds

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Parley L. Heaton whose wedding was an event of recent date, was a gift shower given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine, 208 North Hathaway street.

A series of games gave entertainment to the guests, and later all enjoyed examining the many pretty gifts which were presented Mr. and Mrs. Heaton, and which the latter opened in turn while the interested friends gathered close. Late in the evening, the hostess served sandwiches, cake and coffee.

Those enjoying the evening were the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Heaton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lalonde, Mr. and Mrs. Theo Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clarey, Mr. and Mrs. George Crawford, Mrs. Myrtle Reis, Mrs. William Heaton, Miss Frances McListed, Messrs. M. Crawford, Terry Rumsey, Bart Waterman and Howard Rumsey.

Young People Enjoy Evening Party

Miss Gladys Stoneman, assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Stoneman, added an enjoyable party to last week's list of social affairs, when she entertained at her home on South Sycamore street. Early in the evening were devoted to bunks after which danced was enjoyed by the young people. Refreshments were served before the evening came to a close.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Miss Stoneman were the Messrs. Frances Knudson, Hazel Salisbury, Helen A. Glancy, Blanche Thompson and Adele Lalonde and Messrs. Lyle Smith, John Winterbourne of Tustin, Lloyd Smith, Heustis Snow and Tage Carlson.

Wife Complains Husband Cruel To Dog and Cat

Milton H. Wood, oil company employee, not only abused his wife, but also treated her dog and cat cruelly, it was declared today, in a divorce suit filed in superior court by Elizabeth H. Wood, 50, of Fullerton. The Woods were married in Los Angeles, in 1925. About two years ago they lived at 264 West Truist street, Fullerton, where their domestic life was extremely turbulent, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Wood charges that her husband was fond of liquor and that they had trouble because he made wine in his home. When they went to San Diego on their honeymoon, Wood got drunk in Tia Juana, she alleged.

Attorneys T. L. McFadden and George Holden of Anaheim, are counsel for Mrs. Wood.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that soft corns seem to shrivel right up and drop off.

Popular Young People Are Quietly Wedded In Burbank

Motoring to Burbank accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Warner and Mr. and Mrs. J. Simon Fluor Jr., Miss Mildred Warner and J. Simon Fluor Jr. were quietly married Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by the Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city.

The bride, a brunette of striking loveliness, chose chiffon in two-tone rose tints for her costume and carried a great cluster of pink roses and sweet peas combined with maidenhair fern. Chic hat, hosiery and slippers were harmonizing accessories and a handsome fur coat completed her costume.

A honeymoon to be spent in Los Angeles, San Diego, Palm Springs and other southern points of interest, will be followed by a return to this city where the young people will have a charming home at 1610 French street. In it will be placed the many handsome gifts showered on them by interested friends.

Upon their return, Mr. Fluor will resume his duties as secretary for the Fluor Construction company of which his father is president.

Group of Young Girls Greeted in Home of Dr. Tremain

Dr. Mabel Vance Tremain was a charming hostess last night at her apartments at Tenth and Sycamore streets, when she entertained members of the Girls' Friendly society.

Preceding the party a brief business meeting was held when announcement was made of the Girls' Friendly conference of the Los Angeles diocese, to be held in Los Angeles Friday, January 28. Miss Louise Stephenson, Miss Catherine Chapman, Miss Mabel Robertson, and Miss Bernice Boyd as officers, and Miss Juliette Taylor as elected delegate, will accompany Mrs. W. L. H. Benton, president of the local organization, to Los Angeles on that date.

The evening was spent in playing bridge when it was found that Miss Catherine Chapman held high score and Miss Juliette Taylor was low. Each was presented with an attractive gift.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Tremain who was assisted by Miss Catherine and Miss Gertrude Chapman, and Miss Jeanette Briggs.

Business Women's Club

Miss Mayme Brightwell and her January program committee of the Business and Professional Women's club, arranged for the members to hear the popular Cotton Blossom singers of Piney Woods school in Mississippi, now touring this section of the state, and the program given yesterday at St. Ann's Inn, was one of the very enjoyable events of the month in B. and P. W. circles.

Mrs. Laurence Jones, wife of the school president, accompanied the four young men and in a short talk preceding their song program, explained the foundation of Piney Woods school and its educational plan of three days a week schooling and three days of vocational training. In introducing the individual members of the quartet, she told their origin in the little darkey cabins of the South, and the manner in which the future was fitting them for the future with educational and vocational training, telling what training each one was taking.

The four young men then gave a program of spirituals and old southern melodies, to the keen enjoyment of the business women, and responded to their applause with other entertaining songs. There were few business details to be considered although the president, Miss Louise Kaiser, called attention to the fact that several members were considering a party to attend "The Miracle" and wished to know others that would like to select some certain date for reserving tickets.

Miss Katherine Woods of the Orange county library, was welcomed into membership and Miss Beth Docherty was introduced as a guest. Announcement was made that Miss Mabel McFadden would open her home at 906 North Main street, next Thursday night for the monthly book review which was lapsed during the holidays. Ellen Glasgow's "Romantic Comedians" will be the work of fiction reviewed and the non-fiction has not yet been announced. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Non-Suit Defense Motion Is Granted

The $15,000 damage suit brought by Robert Warden, 16-year-old boy, against the Fernholtz Machinery company and L. E. Hindman, as the result of an automobile accident, never reached the jury.

Superior Judge James L. Allen, in whose court the case went to trial yesterday, took the decision out of the jury's hands by granting a defense motion for non-suit, after the plaintiff had presented his evidence.

The court ruled that there was not enough evidence to require a defense.

LEGION RIFLE PISTOL RANGE IS COMPLETED

With Santa Ana Legion post's pistol and rifle range now open, members of the committee in charge are seeking "customers." The range, located in the basement of the legion hall, was completed this week by legion men and has been given its baptism of fire by Santa Ana police officers. It is a 15, 20 and 25-yard range, constructed so that any firearms, from a .22 pistol or rifle to a .45 pistol, can be used.

Excellent lights have been installed in the basement so that marksmen have no difficulty in finding their targets. B. A. Hershey, member of the post and motorcycle officer, who is one of the crack shots of the police pistol team, will act as range instructor. He will be at the range every night that it is open. E. W. Howard, police officer and legionnaire, also will give instruction.

Members of the committee in charge of the range are endeavoring to interest legion auxiliary members in the range, with a view of holding a women's competitive shoot early in the spring.

Ammunition can be secured at cost from Hershey, but those who desire to shoot will have to furnish their own arms.

It has been decided to open the range only on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. A member of the committee must be present at all times.

NEW CARS WILL BE SHOWN AT PAGEANT

The latest designs in 1927 automobile construction will be demonstrated by the many fine cars, each distinctive in its respective price class, to be exhibited in the william automobile parade in connection with the Orange County Personality pageant, January 20, in the West Broadway theater. It was announced today.

Custom built town cars, housewains, cabriolets, sedans and coupes, will be driven onto the stage with the 75 or more girls who will appear in the pageant. Special lighting effects will make the display most attractive and many of the dealers have gone to great lengths to create an ensemble of gowns, wraps, and cars that will make their entries harmonious pictures.

In addition to displaying creations in automobile design, usually only disclosed by study of catalog, the smartest shops are providing the latest importations and each of the "75 girls, in 75 gowns" will present an ensemble which may, in her quest of chic effect, will know is fashion's late decree.

Many enterprises are sponsoring girls, who will compete for the title, "Miss Orange County."

Says California's Chief Charm Lies In Her Romantic History

Anahelm, R. D. 3, Jan. 17.
To those who attended the performance of "The Pathfinder of the Sierras," enacted in the Bovard Auditorium, U. S. C., last week end, in commemoration of the Jeddiah Strong Smith centennial, was given the privilege of living again the colorful pageantry of a century ago, when Los Angeles was but a small pueblo and Santa Ana was a young, crude and blatant. The playwright, William C. Isett, in dramatizing the story of Smith for presentation, adhered rigidly to historical facts, in many places sacrificing dramatic effect for the sake of historical accuracy, in order to bring to the audience the truth about this intrepid explorer who, as a trapper, was the first to conquer the arid wastes of the desert, bringing a meeting of the East with the West. On Smith's second expedition, which took place, so history tells us, nearly a quarter of a century after the first trip, the California gave up their secret, he was killed by marauding Indians.

The historical societies of California are looking for some vehicle through which to awaken the interest of California's masses to the fascinating history of this beautiful Golden West. In what more colorful way could interest be aroused than by presenting dramatizations of historical events? Commencing, more and more, that California's predominating charm lies in her romantic history, and they are capitalizing this knowledge.

Recently a few far-seeing residents have been agitating for a museum in which Orange county's priceless relics may be housed, that they may go down to posterity as a concrete monument of pioneers in whose blood flowed the fire and stamina that builds a mighty nation, and which marked the picturesque frontiersman. Orange county needs such a museum. Let's pull for it!

The Bee and Its Relation to Human Existence

Editor Register:—On reading the announcement of Mr. Pleasant's appointment as bee inspector, I want to extend to you the thanks of all the old-time bee keepers and many that are not so old, for lending a helping hand in the preservation of our faith in him. Your columns were not needed to urge any of the bees that have known and worked with him for 30 or more years; but for some that have not had that privilege, I want to say to our county supervisors that if they give to all future problems the same just decisions that they have in this case they will without doubt be at the head of our county affairs as long as they want the job. When they grow old in that office and tell us they can't do the work we will put them out.

As long as Mr. Pleasant says he can do his work, that should convince everyone concerned that it is not necessary for him to take the trouble to interview his numerous friends in order to be sure of the job. His word is sufficient for me, so after this let us make it optional with him, for his word is as good as gold.

In your article mention was made that I thought if necessary the bees could stand a heavier tax. That is correct as far as it went but as it is so "unusual" for anyone to "kick" nowadays because his taxes are not high enough, I would like to finish that statement in full. I also said that a good share of the inspector's time was taken up with hunting up people that have one or two colonies of bees parked on the garage or hid out in the back yard, and they are the ones that are the worst menace to the commercial beekeeper. The man that is in the business is vitally interested in doing away with every case of disease that he discovers in his own yard and will give his own bees a close individual inspection several times a year. I suggested a fat fee to be collected for inspection of these hundreds of odd colonies that are scattered all around in every direction. The amount collected in taxes from the commercial producer is so small that no one could object to a slight increase.

There is one reason why the assessment is not higher on bees and here it is. There is only one other profession(?) where the element of chance is equal to the bee industry, and that is playing old fashioned draw poker. In the former you will have several thousand dollars tied up in bees and in the latter you have two or three hundred per cent on your "stake," but then it may come a string of three dry years—which was the case just recently—and an asset becomes a liability. In a poker game—so they say—you sit in with your "roll" and wait and wait and a locket, but three times out of five you will go home with only your hands in your pocket. As a matter of fact, sometimes you get skinned so bad that you haven't even the pocket nor that other important part of wearing apparel that a pocket is attached to. So I am sure that the best answer Orange county ever had takes this same vein of the situation.

I also said that in the past year beekeepers were offered a good sized bonus for moving their bees into some of the fruit growing districts of our state. Too much stress cannot be laid on this phase of bee culture. Did you ever stop to think that if it were not for the bees life on this planet would not be possible, unless we would be satisfied with food taken out of the sea? Without this most wonderful of insects the flowers and fruits would not be pollinated nor would our alfalfa or grains. We have all read of bees being shipped to Australia in order to make alfalfa produce seeds. We would also be deprived of the most wholesome and most pure food known to man. In order to prove this I will call your attention to a few extracts taken from an authority that I think you will concede is the highest:

In the Bible—yes, I read that book also, no matter if I am a little hard boiled—it speaks of the land of milk and honey as being a first class pleasure resort. One of those old pioneers advised his friends who were starting out to explore new lands to take along "a little honey, a little spices and myrrh, nuts and almonds"—you notice he mentioned honey first—the third mentioned I don't know anything about. I doubt very much if he even spelled the animal correctly. John the Baptist existed for quite a spell on "locusts and wild honey." He seems to have placed the former at the top, on his bill of fare for some unknown reason, unless it was to use the latter to take the taste out of his mouth. Personally, I would prefer my honey straight. But Jimmy O'Brien, a good friend of mine—no matter if he did come from Kansas—says the "hoppers" are not so bad, and I guess he knows, for you see by name that he is a "nervy cuss;" and besides after a flight of "hoppers" in that state, grub gets pretty scarce. But laying all jokes aside, if ev-ever since I have been out of "folding pants." I truly hope you do not accuse me of trying to mooch some free advertising, but I sure would like to do what I can to help the bee industry, and I want to tell you that financially, I am not very heavily interested in them personally, but I would not exchange the pleasure I get with working in them, and the knowledge I have gained from a study of them for a great deal.

There is no organization on earth wherein there is as much loyalty to leaders, co-operation, industry and bravery displayed as there is in a hive full of full blooded Italian bees. Any of you will grant the last credential is O. K. and I fear no contradiction from the best of authorities as to correctness of the other three.

In order to impress it deeply on your mind that honey is the one product that is entirely incapable of being injured in any way from contamination I want to call your attention to the tons of it that were sent overseas to use as a healing lotion for our boys at the hospitals.

I actually believe you could put a dish of honey in the cupboard with a crock full of limburger cheese and the honey would come out smelling like a rose. If I ever catch the wife away from home again I am going to try that experiment.

I thank you, CHAS. F. HAVENS.

Are You "Toxic?"

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

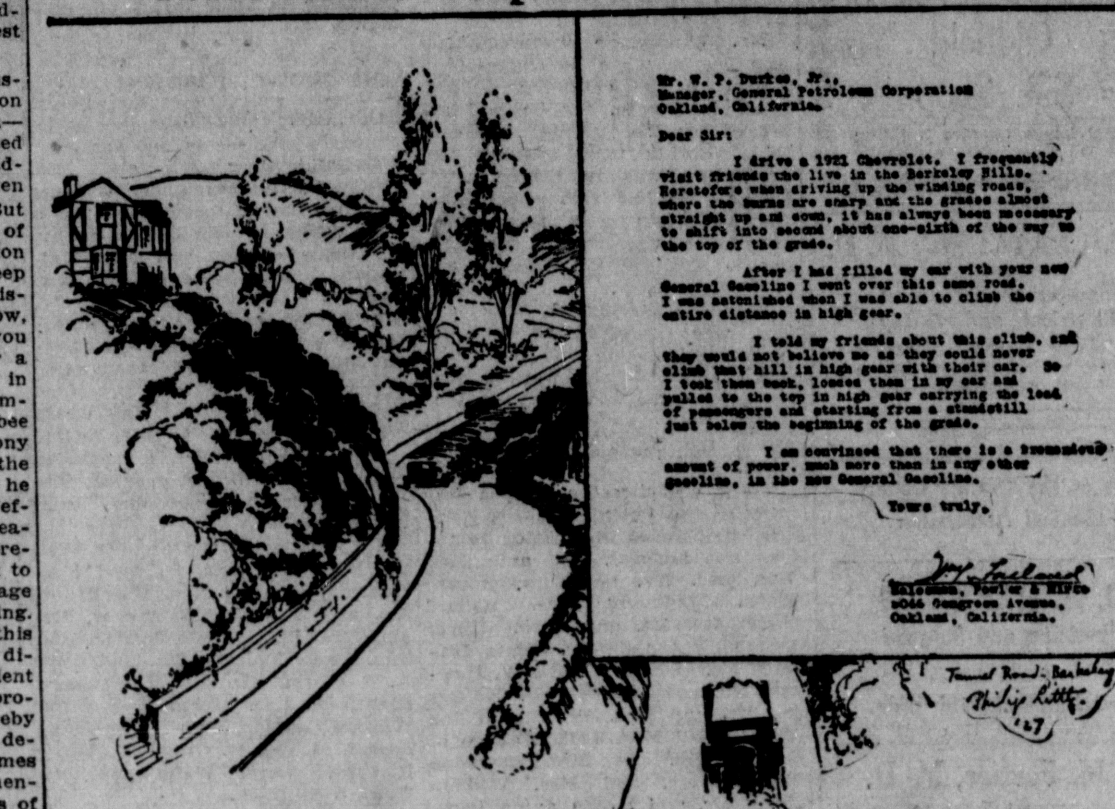

FUNCTIONAL inactivity of the kidneys permits retention of waste poisons in the blood. This is called a "toxic condition." Symptoms are a dull, languid feeling and often toxic headache, backache and dizziness. That the kidneys are not functioning as they should is sometimes shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people assist their kidneys in this condition by drinking plenty of pure water and the use of a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills have earned a country-wide reputation as a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Users everywhere endorse them. Ask your neighbor!

COUNCIL TALKS OVER MEANS OF RAISING FUNDS FOR LIGHTING

Meeting Cost of Operat- in Ornamental System Taken Up by City Dads

ASSESSMENT AREA PLAN IS PROPOSED

Belief Expressed to Tax Entire City Would Not Work to Best Advantage

Discussions on the point whether costs of illuminating ornamental lighting systems in the city should be taxed against the entire city or to small assessment districts, with boundaries corresponding with districts formed for installation of such systems, bobbed up again in the city council meeting last night.

At the conclusion of the conversations, City Attorney Charles D. Swanner was directed to make investigations of the legal angle of the situation and advise the council whether expenses of collection would be less by districts than by an assessment district embracing the entire city.

In an off-hand opinion, the attorney said operation of a city-wide district would be more expensive and more cumbersome than several small districts. Pointing out that in a city-wide district every piece of property would have to be assessed and a tax levy made once a year to meet the year's budget of expense, the attorney said the addition of a system in any year would necessitate readjustment of the tax levy that would entail a great deal of work and heavy expense.

Might Delay Installation
Directing attention to the fact that a tax levy can be made only once a year, the attorney intimated the possibility of such a district blocking the installation of such systems, except in cases where owners promising systems would be content to wait until the following tax year for lighting of the system.

Comments indicated that the councilmen looked upon small districts as the easiest solution to the problem of providing funds for street lighting.

Indications that property owners, or the planning commission, or both, have had a change of heart with reference to the project of widening North Main street, from First street to Washington avenue, was contained in a brief letter from the commission, withdrawing approval of plans for taking four feet of sidewalk from each side of the street. It was said that consideration now is being given to plans for widening by taking three feet of sidewalk from each side.

In response to a communication from G. G. Latimer, asking the attitude of the council relative to the Upon petition of Norman Robotham and Sam A. Meyer, the board last night instructed the city clerk to write Young, offering him a lot free if he should desire to avail himself of the advantages of the city.

It was pointed out by trustee L. S. Williamson that Young undoubtedly would make a welcome addition to Newport Beach. The trustees suggested a plan to cards for the banquet program.

Numerous complaints have been received by City Marshal Claude Rogers that business men of Santa Ana are abusing the two-hour parking law in downtown Santa Ana, Rogers said today.

As a result, business men are going to find themselves in police court with red tickets, if the charges are true, Rogers said. A more complete check of cars parked in the downtown stalls will be made, starting today, he said.

"I'm told that some business men leave their machines in one stall for five and six hours at a time. This is taking advantage of the 'other fellow' and I'm going to stop the practice," Rogers said.

Rogers intimated that, starting today, all cars in the business areas would be watched by officers and that red tags would appear on the steering wheels after the two hours, permitted for parking, had expired.

Because of many complaints from East Fourth street merchants, that the "no left turn" order at Fourth and Main streets hampered their business, Rogers issued orders to traffic officers today not to enforce the law prohibiting the left turn, except during the heaviest traffic hours.

STORY OF ORANGE COUNTY'S FAMOUS OIL WELL, DEEPEST IN WORLD, TOLD IN SUNSET

The story of Orange county's famous oil well, Olinda No. 96, owned by the Chandler-Canfield-Midway Oil company and located in the Olinda field, is told in the February issue of Sunset magazine. The story appears on page 48. A full length picture of the drilling superintendent, J. T. Harryman, accompanies the story.

The Sunset story is as follows: "J. T. Harryman has a right to be the proudest oil well driller on the face of the globe. The Olinda No. 96, located in the Olinda, Calif., field, has become the world's deepest oil well, at a depth of 8046 feet. The well was drilled its entire length with electricity, which is in itself unusual, the majority of oil wells being drilled with steam.

"Harryman, who has been engaged in oil field work for the last 15 years, five of which have been spent at Olinda, is field superintendent for the Chandler-Canfield-Midway Oil company, owner of Olinda No. 96. He was in personal charge of the drilling on this phenomenal well, but is extremely modest about the achievement and inclined to give his fellow workers credit for its success.

"Harryman believes that the day of electrically-drilled wells has arrived; wells will be drilled with this type of power because it is cheaper, safer, cleaner and faster. 'Harryman's baby,' as the project is known, has attracted world-wide attention because of its extraordinary depth and the type of power used.

"The Olinda field is one of the oldest in California, the first well in the district having been sunk more than 20 years ago. Most of the wells in that field are of shallow depth and it was to test out the possible deep sands in the section that No. 96 was drilled. Harryman has the privilege of placing the well on production from any one of the three oil sands discovered in the well."

Delay Setting Forth Need of New Junior High

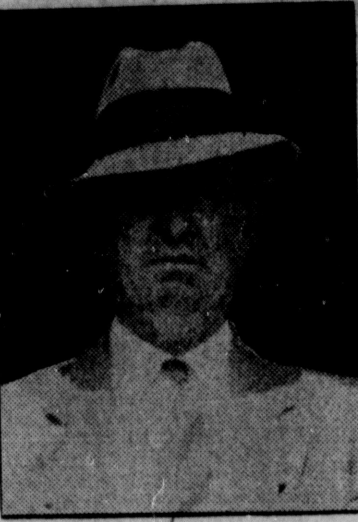

Representations setting forth the need of a new junior high school plant in the north end of the city, to take the place of the Frances E. Willard junior high school, will not be made at tonight's meeting of the city board of education, it was announced today by Mrs. F. H. Heine, president of the Frances E. Willard junior high school P. T. A.

Inquiries revealed, however, that such representations will be made at the regular meeting, set for Tuesday, January 25.

Inability to get together members of the committee appointed to appear before the school trustees, some of them having other engagements, was the reason assigned for the postponement of the recommendations.

WILL ORGANIZE SUPPORT FOR RELIGION STUDY

Orange county residents, who favor work-day religious education for school children on released time, as proposed in a bill to be introduced in the state legislature, will meet tonight at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of organizing support of the movement.

The meeting, set for 6:30, has been called by J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, who, at a preliminary meeting, held two weeks ago, was appointed chairman of a special committee on arrangements.

Dinner will be served at 6:30, after which several speakers will open the discussion. Listed among the speakers are Dr. Jesse Lee Corley, director of religious education, Southern California conference of the Methodist Episcopal church; Dr. Francis M. Larkin, executive secretary, California State Church federation, and the Rev. J. D. Springfield, district director of the American Baptist Publication society.

Reservations for the dinner have been received from several ministers in the county. Others who have signified their intentions of attending the meeting are school trustees and school executives from the various districts in the county.

JULIA LATHROP STUDENTS WILL GIVE OPERETTA

Mrs. Beeson Directing Play and Miss Hazel Bemis in Charge of All Costuming

A double entertainment bill will be offered by students of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school Thursday night, January 20, in the Temple theater, beginning at 8 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. F. H. Beeson, director of music in the city schools.

A special matinee performance will be given on the same day, beginning at 3 p. m. The feature of the entertainment will be the operetta, "Penny Buns and Roses," written by Charles Repper, to be acted and sung by members of the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school girls' glee club.

A short play, "Up Caesar's Creek," directed by Miss Edith Cornell, will be given by a group of boys from the same school.

The operetta is directed by Mrs. Beeson, with Miss Hazel Bemis in charge of the costuming and stage setting. Miss Marion Deane has directed the rehearsals of the dancing and dialogue.

Helen Woodfill takes the part of the Little Old Wife in the operetta. She later becomes a beautiful omen. Hazel Mae Stuke takes the part of the gay gallant, who intrigues the interest of the Little Old Wife. Gene Smith plays the part of a little boy and Lucretia Gillins is the genial baker, who owns the magical oven. There are 100 girls in the choruses of bakers, little old women, little old men, beautiful damsels, handsome young men, pierrotts and pierrettes.

The following outline of the plot of the operetta is given by Mrs. Beeson: "The story concerns a baker, who possesses a magical oven. It has the power of baking the years away, of making people young. A little old lady comes in search of her elusive husband and discovers the magical oven.

"She gets up the courage to go into the oven and reappears as a beautiful damsel. Her husband admires the beautiful damsel, but does not identify her as his little old wife. This amused her.

"A gay gallant pays his addresses to the damsel. They soon depart for a stroll, much to the annoyance of the little old husband. The baker finally tells the husband who the damsel is. Remorse for his frivolous conduct now assails the little old husband. He vents the loss of his little old wife.

"The baker, being a man of resource, suggests the magical oven again, and, in a short while the little old husband is transformed into a handsome young man of 30 years.

"The gay gallant reappears and is very unhappy. The happy ending is brought about in an unusual way.

UNITES TOMORROW FOR S. A. PIONEER

Funeral services for Robert Skiles, 55, former chief deputy assessor of Orange county, who died early yesterday morning in his home, 207 West Broadway street, after an illness of three weeks, will be held at 2 p. m., tomorrow, in the Smith and Tullih parlor.

The Rev. R. H. Silverthorn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Skiles was a native of Missouri, but had been a resident of Santa Ana for the last 40 years.

A Body Sweetness that Even Perspiration Can't Spoil

All the trick laxatives in the world can't tempt people who understand the properties of Cascarets.

A hundred different drugs will purge the bowels, but a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanse even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew!

Your grandparents took "sals," and slowly washed away the mucous membrane with the waste! Mineral oils are better, but they leave the coating that your blood must then carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

Don't get the habit of taking medicine for constipation—or even for auto-intoxication. If you have the habit, stop it. A candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them and the taste tempts most grown-ups to take "more." And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascara tonight! All druggists, 10c and 25c.

BOOKS ON BIRD LIFE SOON TO BE IN DEMAND

In California, once January 15 is past, every one begins to notice signs of spring, either real or imaginary, according to Miss Jeannette McFadden, city librarian. "And as signs of spring become more numerous, lovers of nature look for the return of the birds which leave for the one or two months of coldest weather," Miss McFadden said.

Miss McFadden has arranged a display of books which includes several well known books dealing with bird life. And as a supplement to the books, there is an exhibit of a number of specimens of well known California birds, which has been loaned the library by Miss Elizabeth Burnell, who is in charge of a class in nature study connected with a university extension course.

Picked at random from the group of books on display are the following by their authors:

"Birds of Field, Forest and Park," A. E. Gilmore; "Bird Notes Afford," Charles Keeler; "How to Study Birds," Herbert Keightley Job; "Birds I Have Known," Richard Harper Laimbeer; "Untroudden Ways," H. J. Massingham, and "Birds and Their Attributes," Glover M. Allen.

Owner of Yanks Wants Show-Down

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, announced today that he was going to Chicago this week "to see if we can't put an end to this nonsense."

Ruppert again denied that there was any irregularity in the 1922 World's series between the Yankees and the New York Giants.

"There has been too much loose thinking," he said. "I'm sick of the whole business."

The owner of the Yankees took a leading role in the move to discipline Ban Johnson two years ago. He is said to have had the support of six other club owners in warning Johnson that the latter's removal from office would follow a recurrence of friction with Commissioner Landis.

TRUCK DRIVER IS HELD UP BY AUTO BANDITS

Two men and a woman, riding in a large sedan, held up and robbed Joe Carr, 111 I-2 South Broadway at the intersection of Van Ness avenue and Borchard street at 6 o'clock last night, stealing $5 in cash, according to a report filed with police.

Officers, detailed to the scene of the holdup, were unable to find any trace of the bandits.

According to the story told by Carr, he was driving a laundry truck, when the sedan was driven alongside and a man yelled to him to wait. "I want to see you a minute," the man is said to have cried.

Carr stopped his machine. One of the bandits walked up to one side of the car, the other coming up on the opposite side. An arm was thrown around Carr's neck and a handkerchief placed in his mouth. His pockets then were rifled.

As the men left, the woman was seen at the steering wheel of the bandit car.

As the trio left Carr, one was heard to say, "We're trying to get to Frisco," Carr reported.

Carr is a truck driver for the Nu Way laundry, of Orange.

Wife Didn't Like Names Allegedly Applied by Hubby

Cursing another person in a foreign language is considered a fairly safe diversion, but when C. Lincoln Bennett, North Main street rancher, called his wife a virago, according to Mrs. Bennett, she knew what the word meant.

At least she knew what her husband meant, although Webster gives the word benefit of a choice between two definitions, one depicting a strong woman of great courage, while the other pictures a "turbulent woman," or vixen.

Mrs. Bennett apparently applied the less complimentary interpretation, as her divorce complaint, just filed in superior court, recites its alleged delivery as an instance of cruelty. She claims that her husband also called her a scold and a blatherskite, which latter term she was forced to interpret without the assistance of Webster.

The divorce petitions lists community property of the couple, valued at $29,000, the list including property on Main street, at Orana, an acre at Eagle Rock, property in Dinuba, Cody, Wyo., and Portland, Ore., 2000 avocado trees and a $9000 note.

The Bennetts were married in Portland, Dec. 14, 1887, and separated Nov. 23, 1926. Attorneys Scarborough, Förgy and Reinhaus represent Mrs. Bennett.

BOYS' CHORUS MAKES BIG HIT WITH CROWD AT ANNUAL MEET

Organization Is Praised by Carrie Jacobs Bond, Also on Evening's Program

STARS OF SILVER SHEET ENTERTAIN

J. P. Baumgartner, Newly-Named Highway Commissioner Delivers Speech

The most successful joint meeting of the senior and junior divisions of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce was history today and the 413 persons who attended were singing the praises of made-at-home products, especially the Santa Ana Boys' chorus, which made the hit of the evening in singing the made-at-home song, "Santa Ana—Eden of the World."

The program began promptly at 6:30 p. m., and continued until 10 o'clock, the committee having arranged so that no delay marred the program.

Although a large number of well known persons attended, probably the best impression was left upon those who packed the dining hall by Carrie Jacobs Bond, nationally known composer, who said that the Santa Ana Boys' chorus, if continued through the years, would make this city nationally famous. She spoke in a reminiscent vein of the early history of Hollywood and Beverly Hills and predicted that the chorus would make the members better citizens and better sons of Santa Ana.

Bruce Switzer Toastmaster
Bruce E. Switzer, who acted as master of ceremonies, introduced the Irving Doyle Rainbow orchestra, playing selections from "Nashville Marietta" as the opening number. The soup had little more than disappeared when Erwin Connelly, manager of "Mr. Wu and His Celestial Entertainers," was introduced, and he, in turn, introduced his Chinese orchestra. Later, the Lotus Blossoms appeared and did a spirited dance number.

Miss Faustina Lucero, "Miss California" at the Sequi-Centennial exposition, danced the "Bull Fighter's" dance and responded to an encore, when the applause was such that she could not deny it. She was accompanied by her own company of Spanish musicians, garbed in colorful Spanish costumes.

Miss Barbara Luddy, star of William Fox comedies, sang "In a Little Spanish Town," accompanied by Irving Doyle at the piano. She responded to an encore with "When Evening Comes."

Following Miss Luddy's song, Miss Edna Marion, Wampas baby star of 1926, the "Reason Gentlemen prefer blondes," was introduced. She was scheduled to do the Charleston later in the evening, but had to depart for Hollywood with her party before she was called upon again.

Duke Arbach, exploitation engineer, was introduced and proceeded to tell several funny stories. Orbach, who proved to be a clever speaker, introduced Miss Mildred Walker, "Miss Pittsburgh," who expressed her appreciation of being selected to represent her city in the

A Girl's Critical Age

READING between the lines, it takes a mother or sister to divine the needs of a girl just budding into womanhood. "My sister was not very strong and had been taking all sorts of pills and stuff for constipation. She was fourteen and of course embarrassed with pimples. So I bought her a large bottle of Syrup Pepsin. She has had no constipation since, her complexion is good and she is much stronger, healthier and happier. Now I always recommend Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin." (Name and address will be sent on request.)

Has Brought Up Entire Families

Syrup Pepsin is a mainstay from infancy to full growth. Sour, bilious stomach, headache, coated tongue, colds, feverish daily life—all vanish. Children play right after a dose. Mothers stop their own terrible sick headache, indigestion, constipation. Makes old folks happy, contented. Truly a family medicine in its highest meaning. Get it today—any druggist, anywhere.

COUNCIL TALKS OVER MEANS OF RAISING FUNDS

type of standards to be used in ornamental lighting systems, Mayor Frank L. Purinton stated the position of the body by saying that the council had agreed that, in the business district, standards should be of a uniform type. He intimated that, in residential districts, the wish of property owners would govern the council. He also pointed out that the council usually follows the recommendations of the planning commission.

Following the reading of a written protest by W. C. Baker against the practice of the Pacific Electric company standing its cars at the extreme end of the East Fourth street line, the council directed Street Commissioner Stanley Goode to make an investigation and request the company to have its cars stop 100 feet or more from the end of the line. Baker recited an incident in which his car was in collision with another machine at that point recently. With a car standing at the end of the line, the vision of east and west drivers is obscured at the intersection of Breeden street, with the result that the driver of an east-bound automobile cannot see a west-bound auto making a turn off Fourth to Breeden. Frequent complaints have been made of the situation obtaining at the intersection.

With East First street business men protesting against a detour sign directing through traffic to the south over Fourth street, the council instructed the city engineer to take up with the board of supervisors placement of detour signs that would carry traffic in the way of East Fourth street. The detour is necessitated by the paving work under way on East First street outside the city.

Recommendations of the park commission for the installation of a combination comfort station and band stand in the northwest corner of Birch park brought the council face to face with the problem of whether it wanted to spend $15,000 or $20,000 for such improvement, and the further question as to the method by which the funds should be raised, whether an appropriation from the general fund or by a bond issue. Definite action was deferred for one week.

H. C. Kellogg Jr. and other residents of Flower street, between Fairview and Edinger streets, were present in force to voice their protest against maintenance of a drainage gutter on the east side of Flower street between the points named. Damage to automobiles entering or leaving driveways was related and the situation was declared intolerable. The council as a whole will inspect the street Monday, at 4 p. m., and decide what relief can be afforded the protesting property owners. It was asserted that maintenance of the ditch in its present condition depreciates materially the value of property in the district.

Permission was given for the installation of an electric sign at 117 1-2 East Fourth street. Approval was given a map for the subdividing by J. D. Grisot of South Main street frontage between Borchard and Edinger streets.

Plans were approved for 200,000-gallon reservoir to be located at the site of the city's new well on North Bristol street. A resolution was adopted declaring intention of the council to create an assessment district for an ornamental lighting system in the southeast portion of the city. Resignation of Nat H. Neff as city engineer and street superintendent was accepted with regret, members of the council declaring their high appreciation of Neff and the service he has rendered the city. Neff has been appointed superintendent of county highways. C. L. Jenkins, former assistant to Neff, was appointed city engineer.

3 ABANDONED CARS FOUND BY POLICE

Three automobiles, apparently abandoned, were found on Santa Ana streets last night by police officers, who brought them to the city hall, where they are being held for their owners.

A machine registered to H. F. Dierker, 119 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, was found near Sixth and Main street. It was reported to have been there for three days.

An automobile owned by Harry Ames, no address, was found parked in the 800 block on Maple street.

A coach, registered to Harry Millard, 435 North San Antonio street, Pomona, was recovered by officers near Ross street on Third street.

Officers today are attempting to notify the owners of the recovery of the cars.

AT THE THEATERS

Milton Sills who will be seen at the Yost theater for the next four days in his latest picture, "The Silent Lover."

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

What will unquestionably prove to be the outstanding laugh hit of the season is "The Nervous Wreck," a comedy based on the celebrated stage play by Owen Davis. Harrison Ford, Phyllis Haver, Chester Conklin, Mack Swain and Hobart Bosworth head the large cast of players. Scott Sidney, who directed "Charley's Aunt," also directed "The Nervous Wreck," which is at the Yost Broadway theater.

The first of the comedy sequences reveals the secret that Henry Williams, newly arrived on Jud Morgan's ranch "to die in the wide open spaces," is not nearly so near the brink of death as he believes. After that, adventure begins. He falls in love with the girl who has time to take his remedies. While taking Sally in his flivver to the train the gas gives out and the "Wreck" has to hold up a Rolls Royce for gas, bearing James Underwood, the owner of a large ranch to which the "Wreck" and the girl later flee to evade a posse out for their capture as bandits.

The "Wreck" and Sally are disfigured at the cook and dishwasher in Underwood's household. Sally's fiancé, father and former friends arrive with the avowed intention of stringing the "Wreck" from a tree. In the thrilling yet hilarious climax the "Wreck" has to fight to win the right to die in peace, whereupon he realizes that perhaps his malady can be overcome, and the fight for Sally's love and the fight for his life become more exciting to him than thoughts of a decent burial.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

"Kentucky Sue," the popular old melodrama, in four acts, is showing all this week at Murphy's theatre at Orana. "Kentucky Sue" has for its principal scene of action the romantic old hills of Kentucky and the story that is acted in the play deals with the sturdy mountaineers of that part of the country, their sorrows, their joys and their loves.

Atlantic City beauty tournament. When she left Pittsburgh with her mother, she purchased a round trip ticket, but she tore up the return half of the ticket last night and declared that, hereafter, she would remain in California.

Boys' Chorus Sings
The Santa Ana Boys' chorus, Mrs. F. H. Beeson, director, sang "Anchored," by Watson, as the opening selection, and then "Santa Ana—Eden of the World," the prize winning song in the junior chamber's song contest. The gathering joined in the chorus. It was after the boys had been heard that Mrs. Bond complimented them so highly and predicted the chorus would do much to advertise Santa Ana and encourage a love of good music in the boys themselves.

J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register, made his "inaugural" speech as a new member of the state highway commission. Mr. Baumgartner said that because he had been a member of the highway board but a short time he, of course, could not speak authoritatively concerning the work of the body, but he predicted that a broad policy for the good of entire California, would be followed.

Ed Thomas, assistant to Vice President D. W. Pontius, of the Pacific Electric system, spoke briefly concerning the start of construction on the new Pacific Electric depot in Santa Ana, which was accomplished yesterday afternoon.

Ed Kettle, member of the board of directors of the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce, extended the greetings of his organization to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. He introduced Miss Martha Strang, "Miss San Diego," one of the most beautiful women ever introduced on a Santa Ana stage, many said.

Louis Timson, who represented the Massachusetts department of the American Legion and the Orange county American Legion in the Catalina swim, said that he had been overwhelmed with kindness and courtesy in Orange county, where he found a welcoming haven, and if he ever returns to Lynn, Mass., he will forever sing the praises of California, Orange county and Santa Ana.

Lillian Gish, star of "The Scarlet Letter," current attraction at the West Coast-Walker theater.

WEST COAST-WALKER

The stern intolerance of the early Puritans, their hardships and their fanatical opposition to all that savors of pleasure, form the background for Lillian Gish's most startling and dramatic role, in "The Scarlet Letter," filmed from Nathaniel Hawthorne's classic, and which is now playing at the West Coast-Walker theater.

The Hawthorne story has been placed on the screen with an amazing fidelity under Victor Seastrom's direction, and the new feature is of a magnitude that lists it among the most important plays of the year.

But the interesting thing is the work of Lillian Gish. She entered on the role with a devout spirit akin to that of the actors in the Passion Play, as for six years she has longed to play the story as a tribute to her Puritan ancestors. So she brings to the role of "Hester Prynne" a breadth of understanding that makes the character absolutely live the tragic story of the woman, walled in by intolerance, who bore a brand of shame to shield the man she loved. The dramatic climax at the pillory gives her an opportunity to rise to sublime heights in her portrayal.

agreed to hold contests and send representatives. He introduced Marcella Arnold, "Miss Los Angeles;" Hope Dare, "Miss Long Beach;" and Marjorie Williamson, "Miss Southern California." Also in Ricketts' party was Miss Victoria Regal, formerly a dancer with the Ziegfeld Follies, who gave two pleasing numbers, one an encore, which created tremendous applause. Miss Regal now is playing with the Warner Brothers company and much is expected of her in the motion picture world.

The home production dinner resulted in the table being piled heavily with a large collection of Santa Ana and Orange county products. The dinner was served family style and no one could complain in the slightest that he did not have enough to eat. Two or three helpings of everything but soup were available and urged upon the diners. George Raymer, secretary of the senior division, who arranged the dinner, was credited with having produced the most successful and appetizing meal in the history of Santa Ana.

A considerable sum of money was contributed toward the support of the boys' chorus, as the members and their friends passed from the banquet hall.

The new Belgian coin, the belga, created to assist the stabilization of the currency, is now in circulation. In future all prices and wages in Belgium will be quoted in belgas.

STUDENT BODY IS PREPARING FOR ELECTION

Candidates for student body offices in the Santa Ana junior college will be nominated tomorrow afternoon, during assembly. The college students, during last week, have been in the throes of a political campaign, which has brought out a "Progressive" party, backing James Smith for the presidency.

Four offices are to be filled in the elections. Petition for the nomination of James Smith and Irwin Siphord, for president, have been filed with Miss Enid Twist, student body secretary. Lon McIntire and Allen Goddard are rivals for the vice presidency. Three candidates, Misses Elaine Smith, Mary Georgiana Lewis and Evelyn Metzgar, are backed for the secretaryship. The battle for treasurer is between Donald Purvis and Kenneth Schroll.

Next week, by secret ballot, the students will vote on the candidates. The officers named will serve for the remainder of the school year.

Appointive commission offices will be filled by the new executive board. The traditional revolt, held at the mid-year, when the incoming president overthrows the retiring "king," will be staged by the students. Henrik Van Rensselaer, of the retiring student body president.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Frank McConnell assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Edith Hale, entertained the Jolliffe club, Friday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. E. F. Zimmerman. The Zimmerman family are moving to Santa Ana this week. Card games were played. Mrs. H. H. Lewis was awarded first prize and Mrs. C. B. Henry second. The members presented Mrs. Zimmerman with a leather sewing case. Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. E. F. Zimmerman, Mrs. Lola Kimball, Mrs. C. B. Henry, Mrs. Jack Jentges, Mrs. H. H. Pollard, Mrs. H. H. Lewis, Mrs. Anna New, Mrs. Hale and Mrs. McConnell.

The following attended the card party given by the P.-T. A. at Olive Saturday evening: Mesdames E. F. Zimmerman, H. H. Lewis, Jack Jentges, Lola Kimball, Frank McConnell and Anna New. The Woman's Baptist Missionary society met at the church bungalow Thursday for its regular all day meeting. The morning was devoted to sewing. A pot luck dinner was served at noon. Mrs. M. B. Allen and Mrs. C. E. Pollins had charge of the program in the afternoon. The subject was "Americanization." The all day meeting of the Methodist Episcopal church missionary society was held at the church Thursday. The Home society had charge of the program in the morning, which was presented by Mrs. Ing, which was presented by Mrs. A. A. Schnitzer and Mrs. A. C. Stanley. An interesting program on "Our Alaska" was presented in the afternoon by the foreign missionary department.

The Esther Guild society of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold its regular monthly meeting in the church Tuesday evening. The Misses Mabel and Isabel Northcross spent Saturday in Los Angeles. Miss Gloria Lee, of Hollywood, is spending the week with Mrs. Louise Bowen. Miss Lee is with the Metro-Goldwyn studio.

Mrs. Furtado Makes Rapid Recovery

Sacramento Woman Suffering From After-Effects of "Flu," Nervous Exhaustion and Run-Down Condition, Recovers Perfect Health. Thanks Tanlac

The experience of Mrs. Mary Furtado, living at 2915 4th St., Sacramento, Cal., should be of interest to everyone suffering similar ailments. When Mrs. Furtado was only 22, "flu" left her in a badly run-down condition.

"I was in such a weak condition," says Mrs. Furtado, "that I couldn't do a thing. I was awfully thin, had no appetite whatever, and was so weak that I couldn't do my housework. My nerves were in a terrible state, everything worried me and I felt some days as if I would go to pieces."

"Tanlac certainly proved to be just what I needed. I not only gained 15 pounds in weight, but that tired, run-down feeling left me completely. My appetite improved wonderfully and the nervousness all disappeared."

"I never felt better in my life than I did after taking Tanlac. I could do my housework and I felt just perfect. Whenever I feel the least bit run-down or tired I always go back to Tanlac, for it never fails to build me right up."

Benefit by Mrs. Furtado's experience. Let this marvelous tonic made from roots, bark and herbs according to the famous Tanlac formula, rebuild your run-down body, drive out pain and poison, give you robust health.

Results from first bottle amazing. Ask your druggist for Tanlac—today. Over 40 million bottles sold—Adv.

What's This About?

14000 buys six room house. Who says they can't own a home in Santa Ana when you can get house, lot, garage and fixtures all for the price of what it would cost you to build?

And, it's delightfully located on a paved street, just across from the front of one of our newest schools, within easy walking distance to high school and junior high and yet close enough to town to be convenient.

In this little home there are 3 bed-rooms, living-room, dining-room, kitchen, bath and screen porch. For a family it's ideally located, especially well arranged and extremely cheap. No. 1810.

SECTION THREE

Billy Evans Says

PLAYER-MANAGER PASSE

The American league will have only two player-managers next season, Stanley Harris at Washington, Ray Schalk at Chicago.

Three player-managers will perform in the National, Dave Bancroft at Boston and "Stuffy" McInnis at Philadelphia.

During the past few years the pendulum has swung from the player-leader to the bench pilot. Despite the fact that more than average success was attained by players who also doubled as managers, it is a tough job for one man.

Handling a ball club is one thing, playing another. It's quite a task when you combine the responsibilities of the two jobs.

SISLER SHOULD IMPROVE

I look for George Sisler to be at least 25 per cent more efficient around first base the coming season than he has been for the last two years.

I am inclined to think that Sisler made a serious mistake when he took over the managerial job. Probably it was just as bad a blunder on the part of the owners in selecting him.

Sisler doesn't possess managerial temperament. He is retiring rather than aggressive. He is prone to worry. I am positive that Sisler, in trying to take care of the managerial burden, found it impossible to concentrate on his playing.

BUSH DOES A COMEBACK

I note that Joe Bush led the National league in point of effectiveness last year, after passing from the American and joining the older organization. The figures show that he held the opposition to a batting average of .211, not bad for a veteran supposed to be through.

No doubt the success of Bush at Pittsburgh was due to the deceptiveness of his "fork ball." It is a freak delivery, perfected by Bush, that takes a move puzzling break than the hard-to-hit spit-ball.

When Bush came to the Philadelphia Athletics he had one of the best fast balls I have ever judged. It soon won for him the cognomen of "Bullet Joe." An arm injury later robbed him of that great speed and resulted in the discovery and development of the fork ball.

Now Bush takes it to the National league and it looks very much as if the shift would prolong his career a couple more years.

HIGH-PRICED ATHLETES

New York will have the two highest-priced athletes in captivity next season, Babe Ruth and Rogers Hornsby. Likewise they're the two biggest drawing cards in their respective leagues.

Hornsby is reported to have signed a two-year contract calling for $40,000 per annum. He wanted $50,000 at St. Louis to play and manage, also a three-year contract.

Ruth received $52,000 last year. It was the finish of a two-year contract. He has yet to sign after having had one of his best years in 1926.

YOUNG, CHANNEL CONQUEROR, MAY SIGN MOVIE CONTRACT; GIVES HIS TRAINER $10,000

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—From axle grease to grease paint. From 60 cent to $25,000 to $100,000. George Young, Canadian aquatic star, who covered with a generous coating of axle grease won the Catalina channel derby and Will Wrigley's $25,000 purse at the same time, was expected to sign today to don the grease paint for a motion picture company here.

After contracting with a Hollywood theater to appear five nights this week at $1000 an appearance, the 17-year-old swimming marvel went into conference late yesterday with executives of one of the film companies.

No definite announcement followed the conference, but it was intimated that Young would agree sometime today to appear in the starring role of a motion picture of the "sink or swim" or "from motorcycle to limousine" type.

Any hope entertained by "Cash and Carry Pyle" that Young might join his troupe of professional stars faded with the announcement that Young not only had contracted to give his trainer, "Doc" O'Byrne, $10,000 of the "Wrigley ocean marathon" reward but had also agreed to give O'Byrne 40 per cent of all earnings from November 6, 1926 until November 6, 1927.

Young expressed surprise that anyone should get excited about him signing away part of the swim money and any earning that resulted from that achievement.

"Doc" O'Byrne was the brains and I the brawn of the channel swim," Young said. "He earned his 40 per cent. I don't know why anyone should get excited about it."

"O'Byrne grubstaked me when I arrived here. He fed me, trained and rubbed me and then directed my swim. If O'Byrne hadn't helped me I wouldn't be getting these fat movie offers."

In the Scandinavian countries all big athletic events are scheduled on Saturdays, in preference to Saturdays.

ORANGE COUNTY HARBOR LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

This is the Republic Supply company baseball team, undefeated champions of the Orange County Harbor league and victor in its last 16 pastimes. An all-star team composed of Harbor league players, other than Republic Supply members, was the last victim of Joe Rodgers' champions. In the picture, the players in the top row, reading from left to right, are: Herb Salveson, pitcher; Truman Beeson, first base; Jean Arroues, outfield; Ted Dietzel, outfield. Lower row—J. McCleary, outfield; "Bus" Callan, catcher; Joe Huarte, shortstop; Joe Rodgers, third base; Earl Ihrig, second base. Below is Earl Ihrig jr., mascot of the champions.

INJURIES COST COLLEGIANS REGULAR GUARDS ON EVE OF TWO IMPORTANT CAGE TIFFS

Captain Donald ("Squeek") Squires and Russell Kokx, regular guards, will probably be missing from the Santa Ana junior college basketball lineup in the two important contests scheduled for the Dons this week, it was learned today. Coach Walter Scott hopes the pair will be available but is using substitutes in pre-game workouts.

Captain Squires was in an automobile accident and cut his hand and head seriously enough to keep him on the hospital list for a week.

Russell Kokx has a slight attack of the flu. He may recover sufficiently for the Pasadena game Friday, Coach Scott said.

The local collegians meet Chaffey junior college tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Andrews gymnasium. Chaffey held Pasadena, one of the undefeated teams in the Southern California Junior College conference, to a five point victory.

A workout was given the team last night against the Fullerton American Legion five which Santa Ana won by a 25 to 15 score, a new combination in guards Jimmy Smith and Wilbur Alles, being pressed into service.

The lineup: Santa Ana (25)—(5) Fullerton Legion Edgar (10).....F.....Conner Rozelle (1).....F.....(6) Dausser Rogers (1).....G.....(6) White Smith (2).....G.....(3) Oswald Reinhardt.....G.....(3) Oswald Substitutions: Santa Ana—Soughera (3) for Edgar, Mayo for Rogers, Alles (4) for Smith, Purvis for Reinhardt, Fullerton American Legion—Gordon for Conner, Carpenter for Buxton.

HUFFMAN IS VICTOR BOSTON, Jan. 18.—Eddie Huffman, California, defeated Pat McCarthy, Boston heavyweight, in a 10 round decision bout here last night.

Willard Player Makes Basket For Other Team

Little Bob Spurgeon, star Frances E. Willard junior high school basketball player, got his directions mixed and almost won a game for his team opponents, Julia C. Lathrop junior high school, yesterday.

Playing for the Willard midgets, Spurgeon dribbled beautifully down the court and shot a perfect basket in his own hoop which counted for Lathrop. The North Main streeters rallied, however, and finally won out, 3 to 2.

DELANEY SIGNS TO BOX JIM MALONEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Plans of Tex Rickard for a heavyweight elimination tournament to select the fighter who will meet Gene Tunney for the championship fight in the summer have assumed definite shape with the announcement by the promoter that Jack Delaney will box Jim Maloney February 13.

The winner of the Delaney-Maloney bout probably will meet either Jack Sharkey or the winner of the Paulino-Knute Hansen battle.

Four Giants Send In New Contracts

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Travis Jackson, Freddie Lindstrom, George Harper, and Andy Cohen have sent in signed contracts to the offices of the New York Giants.

JOHNSON HINTS IRREGULARITY IN '22 SERIES

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Hints that some irregularities existed in the world's series of 1922 came today from Ban Johnson, president of the American league.

Johnson's reminders of this series, which the Giants won in five games from the Yankees, were part of the junior league president's first strategic move in his impending clash with Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball's high commissioner.

Reiterating his charge that Landis is responsible for the "taint" placed on the names of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, two of baseball's greatest idols who were quietly dropped from the American league, Johnson demanded to know "why Mr. Landis is content to let that 1922 world's series go by asking a few questions of reporters."

The American league president added hastily, "if he's content to let it go that easy his attitude is worthy of study."

"The American league," he said, "has used and is still using all the resources in its power to unearth the facts about that peculiar series of 1922."

"Now Mr. Landis seems extremely anxious to investigate things that happened in 1917. I wonder why he doesn't show the same enthusiasm for the investigation of some of our recent world's series."

"I investigated some of the actions of players in the 1922 series and the reports I received make me suspicious. Mr. Landis' seal for investigating seems to run to scandal talk of a decade ago."

Simultaneously with this announcement, Johnson summoned the directors of the American league to meet him next Sunday.

Landis already had set Monday as the date for his meeting with Johnson and the American league presidents. The commissioner said that he hoped to ascertain the true facts surrounding the Cobb-Speaker case at this meeting.

It is thought that Johnson's session on Sunday will be held to decide what course to pursue regarding Landis' stand.

FLOWERS, LOMSKI TRAIN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Tiger Flowers, former middleweight champion of the world, and Leo Lomski, the "Aberdeen assassin," are training daily at their local quarters for their ten round bout at Wrigley field Saturday.

SANTA ANA CAGERS TO PLAY ORANGE QUINTETTE TONIGHT

A revamped lineup will be used by Coach Bill Foote, Santa Ana high school basketball mentor, when he sends the Poly varsity against the powerful Orange five tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, in Andrews gymnasium. As a preliminary, the crack Santa Ana class B quintette will meet the Orange B aggregation.

What Coach Foote hopes to develop now is a strong scoring combination. Lory Hogue, crack basketball guard, is to be placed at running guard and Julius Bordon will play his forward.

With this combination, there will be three men on the team who can score even when Chet Siegel leaves at the end of the semester. These will be Don Smith and Bordon, forwards, and Hogue, running guard.

Siegel will be at center tonight and Charles Ehrhorn at guard. The Santa Ana B team is a strong squad drilled by Coach Stewart White. In practice games with San Diego, the border lads defeated Orange by a 22 to 9 score and Orange came back in a return game to defeat San Diego, 37 to 22. San Diego is in the Coast Preparatory league, along with Santa Ana.

The Whittier quintette, champions of the Coast Preparatory league last year, will furnish the next league activity for Foote's outfit. The game will be played Friday at Whittier with the Class C game as a curtain raiser. The Whittier and Santa Ana B fives will play here Thursday afternoon.

Landis Rules to Eliminate Baseball Scandal Given Approval at Meetings

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Jan. 18.—Negotiations between major and minor league baseball representatives over new rules for the exchange of players were continued today.

Two closed sessions were held by the baseball leaders yesterday on the draft and optional player agreements and definite recommendations for the coming season were expected to be drawn up today.

The $7500 price paid by the majors for each player drafted from the minors was understood to be the bone of contention in the present conference.

Representatives of the International league, the American association and the Pacific Coast league were seeking to have the draft price raised to $10,000. Their stand reopened the fight of two years ago, when they rejected the $7500 price and declined to enter the draft agreement with the majors.

K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, who is attending the conference, remained silent on the latest baseball sensation furnished by the statement of Ban Johnson, president of the American league.

Johnson, preparing to reopen his struggle with Landis at the meeting of the American league club presidents in Chicago next week, placed responsibility on Landis for the "taint" attached to the names of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

"I cannot discuss Johnson's statement now," said Landis. "I will welcome an open meeting of the club presidents in Chicago next Monday. That will give a chance to air all the evidence in the Cobb-Speaker case."

Unanimous approval was given by the major and minor league representatives here to the rules recommended by Commissioner Landis as a step toward eliminating scandals in baseball. The Landis suggestions are:

1.—A rule of limitation to baseball similar to the rule of limitation in criminal law.

2.—Suspension for one year for offering or giving a reward by the players or management of one club to the players or management of another club for service rendered in defeating a club.

3.—Suspension of one year for betting on a game in which the player does not participate.

4.—Permanent suspension for betting on a game in which the players participate.

Fidel La Barba To Retire From Ring Next Fall

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Fidel La Barba, world's flyweight champion, who is to meet Elky Clark, of Scotland, European titleholder, in a 10 round bout here Saturday night, said in an interview today that he was going to retire from the ring on September 23, this year.

On that day La Barba will be 22 years old. He said he expects to go to Stanford university to finish his education.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Kit Carson

Sketches By Kroesen
Synopsis By Braucher

In 1842 Carson had his first touch with civilization in years when he went to St. Louis, where his daughter was studying in a convent. After a few days in town his spirit chafed again for the outdoors and he took steamer for a voyage up the Missouri. Here he met John Charles Fremont, the reckless explorer.

Fremont was setting out to map the plains, and never was he so fortunate as when he made a friend of Carson, who became his aid.

Carson came to like the dashing Fremont, and served as his guide in several of "the Pathfinder's" explorations.

On the second Fremont expedition, a wild, groping journey from the Oregon country into Nevada, thence across the Sierras, Carson often saved the party from disaster by his craft and knowledge of the Indians. Kit then grew lonesome for his family, and longed to carry dispatches east that he might see them.

THE TINYMITES

BY NAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

Said Scouty, "Anybody knows that that's a home for Eskimos. I guess we must be way up north 'cause that's where they reside. What I would really like to know, is are they friend, or are they foe. I wish that we could reach that house so we could peek inside."

Then Clowney said, "I'll tell you what—I'll sneak ahead and look around. The rest of you can stay. This seems, I guess, the only source. I may run into harm, of course, and, if you hear me shouting, come a-running right away."

The rest all yelled, "Hurrah for you!" And Clowney bid them all adieu, and started creeping through the snow to reach the frozen house. At times he almost thought he'd freeze. 'Twas cold upon his hands and knees, but on he went, real slow but sure, as quiet as a mouse.

The others crouched down out of sight and hoped that he'd come out all right. They knew that he was reckless and they feared what fate might bring. But then they all heard Scouty say, "Oh, shucks, he'll surely get away if anything starts chasing. He can run like every thing."

And, in the meantime Clowney reached the house just as a wee voice screamed. Now, what was that, he asked himself. It seemed real close at hand. He then crept forward one yard more and peeked inside the little door, and what he saw sure made him know this was a funny land.

Before he had a chance to jump, an arm reached out, and with a thump, big fingers seem to pick him up and pull him back through space. He tried to yell with all his might but he was much too filled with fright. The hand that grabbed him quickly pulled him right inside the place.

(The Tinymites attempt to rescue Clowney in the next story.)

Queer Quirks of - NATURE -

ANT GUARDIANS GET FREE RIDE HOME

By ARTHUR N. PACK
President, American Nature Ass'n.

The great naturalist, Linnaeus, once said, "Nature is the most marvelous in the smallest of her creatures."

The writer once stood for an hour on the elevated platform of an "L" station in Chicago's loop and watched the long column of a parade as it passed below. Nearly every marcher carried aloft a green banner, and the whole pageant bore a startling resemblance to a long line of parasol ants homeward bound, carrying aloft green banners which have been cut from the leaves of trees, and which fragments have been industriously cut and hoisted to position.

These green banners are enormous in comparison to the size of the ants who carry them. Riding gaily home on these banners or sometimes will be seen one or more small ants which accompanied the larger ants in their work and which act in the capacity of secret service men in keeping away a dreaded enemy fly.

This fly seeks to deposit its eggs in or around the mouth of the working ant, who has no time itself to be on the lookout for the dreaded insect which seeks to infect it with the parasites.

These tiny flies are viciously attacked and driven away by the body-guard, and for this good work—or so it appears—are given a free ride home on the awaying banners.

After the fragments of leaves are cut and hoisted to a perpendicular position, which is often accomplished with a great deal of difficulty, they are carried to the ants' underground nests, chewed up and moistened, and a sort of compost made, which is spread out and then sprinkled with the spores of a certain kind of fungus called Rhizoglyphus, which is to the parasol ant what mushrooms are to us. This fungus is the food upon which the parasol ant lives.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

E. B.—Your father can try massage to stop the falling hair, and if his hair is very dry use a very little bit of olive oil on the finger tips when massaging the scalp. If the condition does not improve after a few weeks of this special care, he should go to a scalp specialist, as a man of 47 who is losing his hair will soon be bald if he neglects to get the correct treatment when needed. Stiff hat bands and indiscriminate use of combs (the latter spread scalp diseases) account for more baldness with men.

Polly—Your illness is what is causing your hair to fall, and as soon as you have fully recovered your health your hair will come in again. Continue to keep your hair short over your invalidism as it is so much more comfortable this way, and will be less care for those nursing you. Omit all bleaching rinses or any other artificial coloring for your hair at this time.

You can wear almost any color with brown eyes and light hair. Choose colors for your dressing gowns that will cheer you and those who are with you.

S. B. A.—An oily skin comes from poor elimination so the cure will not come by any sort of treatment you apply to the skin directly. Trace it down to the cause and correct it there. The powdered oatmeal relieves temporarily, and so does an ice cube or any other form of astringent treatment, but any of these is merely to carry you over for a day or so. Mitsi M.—You cannot get rid of the hair on your legs, but you can keep the color bleached by using peroxide so it will not be noticed through your stockings. Dancing will reduce your legs and it will make your movements so much more graceful that the actual size of legs will not matter much.

Katie—At 20 years of age weight 124 pounds, height five feet two inches, you should get rid of at least 10 pounds. If you do this you will not need any special exercises for reducing hips, thighs and other portions of the body.

Anxious—Always conclude any method of cleansing the skin by closing the pores and you will not have enlarged pores. At this season of the year the water from the cold faucet will be almost like ice water, so make this the final rinse, but use ice water or rub with a tiny piece of ice during the months when the water is not at this extremely cold temperature.

Mrs. E. J. S.—I have heard of women having the tissues destroyed by having the treatment you mention, and, of course, I could not recommend it to you. Do not use lemon at all when mixing henna and indigo. You can add the indigo to the rinse after the shampoo or add a strong solution of it to the henna lather, and either method should darken the grey hairs.

Lipstick More Than Beauty Aid --- It Helps Your Health

BY NINON
For NEA Service

Give credit where it is due and thank the lipstick for what it contributes to beauty, even though too often it conceals more than it reveals.

For undoubtedly those who use a lipstick conscientiously and frequently are rarely troubled with chapped lips. This constant application of lip salve forms a protection which wind and cold cannot penetrate.

However, it is not the coloring that does the trick, but the grease in which the color is held. You can obtain the same effect by applying any lubricant such as camphor ice, white vaseline or healing cream. Or you can buy colorless lipsticks that come in handy little tubes that may be applied just as the stick is.

If you do have frequent recourse to your lipstick, don't forget the little french trick of going over the divide between the lips and the complexion around it with powder to relieve the harsh line and give a more natural look.

In the winter time, many women are afflicted with colds and fever blisters, which are anything but attractive. To remedy this, soften the afflicted spot with vaseline or cold cream and then bathe with spirits of camphor. For fever blisters, bathe with a solution of peroxide of hydrogen and anoint with borated vaseline.

I cannot be too emphatic in urging you not to aggravate by picking or undue rubbing any small pimples or blisters that may appear about your mouth. The danger from infection is very great, and serious consequences often result from what would have been taken care of itself had it been given the opportunity.

Posed by Gladys Grant

It's the grease in the lipstick that does the trick.

MENUS for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Grape fruit sections, cereal, thin cream, fried cornmeal mush, syrup, crisp granola toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Potato and turnip puree, toast sticks, open lettuce sandwiches, canned peaches, sponge cake, milk, tea.

DINNER—Baked turbot of fish, tartar sauce, scalloped potatoes, buttered parsnips, cabbage and celery salad, pineapple cream pudding, bran rolls, milk, coffee.

After parsnips have been frozen, they are much better than if dug before the frost penetrates through the ground. The flavor, as well as the texture of the vegetable is improved. If you used parsnips early in the fall without success, try them now and notice the difference.

Potato and Turnip Puree
Four white turnips, four potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 bouillon cubes, 1 blade celery, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon pepper, 4 cups veal stock or milk, 2 hard cooked eggs.

Choose small turnips and potatoes and boil until tender. Put through a vegetable ricer or rub through a coarse sieve. Melt butter with bouillon cubes and celery very finely minced. Stir in flour mixed with salt and pepper. When perfectly blended, slowly add stock or milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add rice vegetables. Stir and bring again to the boiling point. Pour into a soup tureen and add hard-boiled eggs cut in slices. Mince parsley or tiny sprigs of cress sprinkled over the top of the soup adds to the attractiveness of the dish.

MORE THAN SUCCESS

You can be clever and be kind. You can be skillful and be fair. You can possess a brilliant mind. And still be welcomed everywhere.

You can do many a gracious deed. And still succeed.

There is no hill you cannot climb. No distant goal you cannot reach. And still contrive to find the time. For gentle ways and gentle speech.

You can be strong and thoughtful too. Fight hard and work to gain.

your end. Your duty bravely you can do. And still have time to play the friend.

You do not have to stain your soul. For any goal.

Boy, stand to life and take its blows. Strike for the victory when you can. But keep that touch of race which shows. The world that you're a gentleman.

You can make kindness your creed. And still succeed!

NOTHING STARTS DAY SO WELL AS GOOD BREAKFAST

BY SISTER MARY

Nearly every housekeeper has what might be called a "stock breakfast" that she serves to her family five mornings out of seven. It undoubtedly is quick and easy to get, and probably is the family's "favorite."

It's only too easy to set into this breakfast rut, but the getting out is something else again and what we're particularly interested in. In the first place, breakfast is the most important meal of the day. It's the one meal in which all members of the family are sure to participate and it's the meal that must supply the energy for the day's duties. For these two reasons it's up to the housewife and mother to give the best she can.

Should Be Tempting

Breakfast appetites are apt to be finicky and need tempting, so a variety of menus and attractiveness of service play an important part in this first meal of the day.

It is not necessary to spend extra money to achieve these ends, but it will take extra thought and perhaps time. Not an extra cent need be spent to have five or six different cereals in the house at one time, alternating them through the week, than to have one kind only and use up the entire box before indulging in another variety.

Muffins one morning, toast another, pancakes, waffles or French toast make it possible to vary the breakfast bread. A good rule to keep in mind regarding the choice of the breadstuff is that toast "goes" with a soft cereal while muffins are served when a ready-to-serve cereal or a no-cereal breakfast appears.

Fruit Juice Hits Spot

Vary the fruit, too. Orange juice is delicious and certainly touches the spot, but if it's served morning after morning it becomes monotonous. Try serving grapefruit in different ways. The juice, slightly sweetened, appeals to some people more than orange juice. And if the fruit is taken from the shell and served in sections, the breakfasters who are in a hurry will be delighted. Of course this takes time in preparation but it's worth more than time to any mother to be sure her children are well fed.

Spotless breakfast cloths or runners, gay china and a flower or bit of green for the center of the table do much toward inducing an appetite.

Breakfast should not be an elaborate meal, but it should be a pleasant one and as unhurried as possible. The heartiness depends entirely on the occupations of the members of the household. The busy housekeeper needs more nourishment than the stenographer, while the growing boy or girl who puts in a strenuous morning at school needs almost as hearty and quite as nourishing a meal as a woodchopper.

The person who would reduce will be much wiser if he eats some breakfast and decreases or does away with his luncheon.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

You can't string 'em along if you're all wrapped up in yourself.

METAL CLOTH

The short sleeveless jacket of metal mesh worn with a one-piece dress of silk, is ideal for sports wear at southern resorts.

Facts About Telephone

A telephone cable may contain as many as 2,400 different wires. Each wire is insulated by being separately wrapped with dry paper.

New York City uses the long distance telephone lines much more frequently and over greater spaces than any other city in the world.

A telephone transmitter delivers to the line only a few thousandths of a single watt, and frequently over 99 per cent of this power is necessarily dissipated along the line.

The Wall Street Journal says: "More business is being done in Wall Street over the telephone than ever before in the history of the financial district."

American telephone factories produce 110,000 different kinds of parts that go into the making of a modern telephone system.

A group of squirrels recently placed one hundred telephones out of commission at Winchester, Va., by gnawing holes in the lead aerial cables which resulted in rain dripping through and grounding the wires.

NEW DANCE FROCK

A white taffeta dance frock is scalloped at the hemline, and a deep fold of black velvet beneath gives the even line and adds a striking touch of sophistication.

Voices

The day is full of voices—meaningless, insistent. They drone upon the street, chatter at parties, hurl snatches of themselves at you from passing automobiles, rise up and down dramatically from open-air platforms, end with question marks at the office, trail after you on street cars . . . Your ears, forever open, almost have to hear.

Yet in this same room with you are voices of utmost silence, whose every word concerns you. You control them more surely than you control telephone or radio. Open a page—they talk to you quietly. Close a page—they are through. They are the voices of the advertisements. They talk direct to you. Tell of better roofing for your home, more protective paint for its walls. Shoes your youngsters can't scuffle out easily. Salads, delicious drinks, to gratify you. Reinforced hosiery, cooler underwear, purer soaps. You believe in these voices, for they have to be sincere. Else they would not be in these pages—could not have the nation's belief. You buy the goods they proffer, for you know already what those goods will do. And wide belief has lowered their prices. They are economical—sure!

Loose products everywhere in stores are crying out, "Buy me!" But behind the voice of the advertised product is the voice of authority. The voice that tells the why, what, when, where and how of the goods you buy.

Heed these courteous voices often. Read the advertisements every day

ORANGE YOUTH IS NEW LEADER OF H. S. LEAGUE

Earl Lyon Chosen President Of Scholarship Federation at Riverside

ORANGE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Jan. 18.—In the election of Earl Lyon to the presidency of the California Scholarship Federation is added another achievement to the long list of Orange high school honors. As president of the C. S. F., Earl will hold what is without doubt, the highest elective position that can come to a California high school boy or girl.

The state convention of the C. S. F. met at Riverside, made up of representatives from 125 California high schools. The north as well as the south was represented, including the larger city schools, such as San Francisco and Sacramento. Each school was limited to 10 representatives but most of the more distant schools sent a somewhat smaller number. In all there were 500 or 600 of the keenest young men and women that the schools of California can produce.

A very interesting and profitable session was held. The outstanding decision of the group was to make the federation less an honored group and more a service organization, adopting as the permanent motto throughout the state the slogan, "Scholarship For Service." All speeches were well prepared and presented. Each was limited to two minutes.

As president, it will be Earl's duty to make arrangements for the next convention in Fresno next April, and also for the convention in San Diego next Christmas. In these meetings all business is conducted in strict parliamentary manner. It will be a great experience demanding the best Earl can give.

It will be of interest to Orange students to know that Charles F. Seymour, brother-in-law of our Miss Hall, is founder of the Scholarship Federation. Mr. Seymour has put an infinite amount of time and energy into the organization, and it is due to his efforts largely that the organization is assuming each year a place of greater importance throughout the high schools of the state.

Earl's election was due to two things: the splendid nomination speech, in which Eula Stanfield placed his name before the convention, and his own alert and pleasing personality when he made his appearance to accept the nomination.

Those attending the convention delegates from Orange were: Estelle Hamill, G. A. Frerking, Manfred Mueller, Lena Mae Wiley, Eula Stanfield, Ralph Garaway, Julia Campbell, Earl Lyon, with the faculty advisors, Miss Walton and Mr. Stoner.

ORANGE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, January 18.—A new club has been organized in Orange high school. It is called the Lettermen's club and was organized for the purpose of creating a greater interest in athletics and to take charge of all pep assemblies. The charter members of this club are the boys who have previously been awarded varsity letters in any major sports.

The first important meeting was held in the high school gymnasium last Wednesday evening. Many new candidates were given the first degree. After the initiation, the club had a fine dinner at the Sunshine cafe. The election of officers took place after dinner. The following were elected:

President, Bob Hartman; Treasurer, Coach White; publicity editor, Clyde Feldner.

Mother Colony News Notes

By NELLIE SACKETT
ANAHEIM UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Jan. 18.—The seniors held their annual "ditch day" on Monday, January 10. The great event took place at Mount Baldy, where everyone spent a very enjoyable day.

"The Quill and Scroll," a magazine for high school journalists, will soon sponsor a news writing contest. The articles entered will be judged according to originality, forcefulness and artistry of expression. All high schools may enter this contest, which will close April 1, 1927.

Courtesy Week was observed at A. U. H. S. last week. The courtesy group of the girls' league was in charge of the program for the week. The Ananorance featured courtesy in the paper for that week.

The Athenian society met Thursday evening in the school library. The members discussed pins, which will be ordered in the very near future.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage originality in writing. A program consisting of an original short story, an original essay and several selected modern poems.

The girls are busy selecting players for the class teams in hockey. The first interclass game will be played on February 5, seniors against juniors. The girls practice after school and stage some exciting games.

An opera, "The Garden of the Shah," will be presented by the glee clubs of A. U. H. S. The parts have been assigned and the whole program is now under way.

A great number of students are quite busy working on the various parts of the annual, the Blue and Gold. The art department is busy on special scenes about the campus. The photography class will have the charge of all the pictures of the various organizations, besides individual pictures of each student.

BEACH SCHOOL SPANISH CLASS LEARNS TALES
By BESSIE ROBINSON
HUNTINGTON BEACH UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Jan. 18.—The second year Spanish class, under the supervision of Miss Swingle, has been studying stories in Spanish for the last quarter. The first stories are very common ones, such as "Chicken Little," "The Three Bears" and "The Three Boys."

The studying of these stories has been proved to be much more interesting than grammar work, and the students have enjoyed this type of work very much. The first thing that each student does is to read the story over and look up all new words to add to his vocabulary.

Then when the student reads the story the second time it is very easily understood. The class has one day to read the story aloud and to answer questions in class. The next day each student has a choice to tell a part of the story in his own Spanish words. In this way each student has an equal share in recitation work and it enables the class to progress more rapidly in conversation work.

Miss Swingle has planned that the work will be as interesting for the rest of the school year.

Federation Of Boys Proposed At S. A. School
By CHESTER CHANDLER
SANTA ANA POLYTECHNIC HIGH SCHOOL, Jan. 18.—The girls have nothing on the boys. They are to have an organization too. It's the Boys' Federation.

A committee of faculty members investigated the idea, and decided that it would be a worth while addition to the club list. Glendale, San Diego, Long Beach and several other schools have proved that a boy's organization is practical.

A committee of one senior, one junior and one sophomore, with two others chosen at large were asked to draw up a constitution for the federation. Those chosen were Ray Hutchens, Lowell Hamilton, Warren DuBois, Fred Burlew and Newell Vandermast.

The first affair to be promoted by the federation is an interclass track meet to be held next semester. No participants will be eligible. Participants will enter according to the class in which they will be next semester. Individual and class awards will be given to the winners.

Captains for the class track teams were elected. The senior captain is Parker Adams, the junior captain, Jack Blakeney, and the sophomore captain is Warren Cooks.

GOLD BEATING IS STUDIED BY JEWELRY CLASS

Fullerton Students See Interesting Process at Plant In Orange

FULLERTON UNION HIGH SCHOOL, Jan. 18.—The jewelry classes made a trip to the gold beaters in Orange to watch the process of reducing metal to gold leaf. It is a very ancient process and there are only a few of them in the country.

The gold is obtained from the mine in bars. The gold beaters run these through steel rollers and reduce them to one-fifth hundredth of an inch in thickness. Then it is ready for the beating. They take little thin strips of skin made from the inside of the stomach of an ox and place the thin sheets of gold between the layers of skin. A great number of students are quite busy working on the various parts of the annual, the Blue and Gold. The art department is busy on special scenes about the campus. The photography class will have the charge of all the pictures of the various organizations, besides individual pictures of each student.

BIG PROJECTS TO CONSERVE SACRAMENTO, SAN JOAQUIN WATERS ARE RECOMMENDED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Recommending gigantic engineering plans for the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, second only to the proposed Boulder dam project on the Colorado river and including the latter project itself in the recommendations for Southern California, the state division of engineering and irrigation submitted its report on the water resources of California to the state legislature.

The report, based on six years of study and authorized by the 1915 legislature, recommends a co-ordinated plan of development for the two valleys that would cost a total of $334,000,000, according to the included estimates.

"This plan is presented as the most feasible engineering solution for the co-ordination of the several uses of water and the means by which California may obtain the water necessary for future development," stated Paul R. Bailey, state engineer.

Flood Water Storage
"It provides for the storage of flood waters for conservation purposes, the transportation of surplus waters of the Sacramento drainage basin to the deficient areas of the San Joaquin valley, an adequate summer flow in the Sacramento river for navigation and salt water control, the resumption of hydraulic mining in the Sierra Nevada mountains, the control of flood by reservoirs, the expansion of irrigation along the lower Colorado river, in south-eastern California, and the diversion of water from that river to the Pacific slope for municipal purposes."

In view of the intricate nature of these problems and their momentous bearing upon the future of California, the division and its advisors earnestly recommend that a committee representative of all those concerned in the development of the water resources of California, including national and state offices, be appointed solely for the purpose of determining first, the practicability of carrying out this plan, and second, if found to be practicable, to recommend a method of procedure.

Plan Series of Dams
The program for Sacramento valley includes the construction of a series of dams to reduce flood flows and provide for irrigation water. These dams would be located on the Sacramento river, one on each of its main tributaries, and the upper portion of Trinity river would be drained into the Sacramento basins.

The dams would be placed so as to separate mountain and valley use of water, to secure maximum service from the state's limited supply of water. The dams also would be used for generating a large amount of electric power.

San Joaquin valley, which includes one-half of the lands now under irrigation in California, would be provided with a new water supply from the Sacramento valley to relieve the present shortage, according to the survey.

The supply for this purpose would be derived from the water used to maintain navigation in the channel of Sacramento river. After serving for this purpose, the water would be diverted at the mouth of the river into the San Joaquin. Passing through the channels of the island region forming the delta of the two rivers, it would be boosted up the main channel of the San Joaquin by a series of pumping plants, much like the system of passing ships through the Panama canal.

Would Use Collapsible Dams
The dams would be collapsible, so as not to obstruct the channel during flood season. They also would constitute a means of conserving the scant water supply in the San Joaquin valley.

The plan provides for dams and pumping plants on the San Joaquin river, complete with levees along the banks, costing $13,000,000, and canals extending south from Friant, on the upper San Joaquin river, to Kings river and from that point south to near Earlimart, costing $11,000,000 more.

"This estimate does not include the cost of a salt water barrier that will undoubtedly be ultimately required, nor any part of the co-ordinated plan in the Sacramento valley necessary to make the surplus water of the Sacramento drainage basin available for diversion into the San Joaquin valley," said the report.

Estimate of cost
Cost of the reservoirs under this plan, that would not only provide much new water for irrigation, but also control floods and develop much hydroelectric power, was estimated as follows:

Temperance flat, upper San Joaquin river, 1,100,000 acre feet, $51,000,000.

Pine flat, Kings river, 1,400,000 acre feet, $35,000,000.

Isabella, Kern river, 1,100,000 acre feet, and Bakersfield, Kern river, 200,000 acre feet, $40,000,000.

The Boulder dam, in Colorado river, was the only solution to the water problem of Southern California offered in the report. A continuous supply of 1500 second feet should be allotted to the Pacific slope of Southern California for municipal purposes, it declared.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

INTERSTATE TO RESUME COSTA MESA ACTIVITY

COSTA MESA, Jan. 18.—Interest in oil activity in this city was increased today, when it was announced that the Interstate Oil company is preparing to resume drilling operations in its Banning-Norris well on Nineteenth street, near the bluffs west of town.

Drilling activity on the well was stopped about a year ago, with the bottom of the hole at about 2164 feet. Since that time the company has done nothing with the hole. Yesterday, steam was up in the boilers and workmen were busy shining up tools and oiling machinery.

According to unofficial reports, the well will be pushed down to a depth of about 2500 or 5000 feet. The log of the well shows good indications for oil at its present depth, it is reported. The oil is said to be of a heavy variety, but is lighter than the heavy crude tar which is being produced by the Julian Oil company in its wells to the southeast.

The Interstate company was the first to locate in the Costa Mesa district and was the first company to find oil. The Interstate No. 1, about a mile southeast of the Banning-Norris well, was officially abandoned some time ago, after it had been hailed as the best producer in the field. The No. 1 well was bothered with water, it was said.

Harry Harris, production manager of the Interstate company, has assumed charge of the company activities here. R. Wells, who has been in charge, will remain as company superintendent for the Costa Mesa district.

Mexicans Given Stiff Sentences

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—Stiff sentences were imposed on two Los Angeles Mexicans, Frank Rodriguez and Manuel Cantu, by Justice Spence yesterday afternoon, when found guilty of reckless driving. Another was put on $100 bail and his hearing was set for Tuesday afternoon.

The three men were arrested by Fullerton officers near Buena Park after a wild drive through this city in which they are alleged to have hit several machines on the highway.

Frank Rodriguez was fined $150 or 180 days in the county jail on a charge of possession of liquor. He was also given a fine of $100 or 90 days in jail for reckless driving. Manuel Cantu was fined $100 or 100 days on a charge of reckless driving. Their companion, Raymond Garcia, was out on a $100 bail charged with reckless driving. The men fined were given 24 hours to raise their fines.

Water Chief At Grove Resigns

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18.—John C. Mitchell handed in his resignation as a member of the local advisory committee of the Garden Grove water district at the meeting held last week. M. L. Craver was appointed to fill the vacancy on this committee.

R. E. Johnson handed in his resignation as superintendent of the water district, which position he has held since the local water system has been in operation. The resignation was accepted by the committee.

Irvine German, who was in charge of the Garden Grove Water company here for a number of years, was appointed superintendent for the water district to fill Mr. Johnson's place. He began his duties this week.

Draws Heavy Fine On Booze Charges

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—At the hearing of Roman Montana yesterday afternoon before Justice Spence on a charge of possession and transportation of liquor, he was found guilty and fined $800 on each count or 800 days in the county jail on each charge.

Montana was arrested Friday night by Fullerton officers and 75 gallons of "white mule" was seized along with 10 gallons of wine.

Placentia Pastor Goes to Fullerton

PLACENTIA, Jan. 18.—The Rev. Oscar J. Finch, pastor of Placentia Nazarene church, has resigned to take charge of a newly organized church in Fullerton. He is moving his family there this week.

Move So They Can Cast Ballots In Newport Election

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 18.—Interest in the $500,000 harbor bond issue which will be placed before the people here February 14 has caused a number of harbor boosters who own property here but live elsewhere to establish a residence here and register so that they may vote at the election, it was made known today.

Among those who have established residences in Newport Beach are the Axelsson family. The Axelssons own a large summer home on Balboa island but reside most of the year in Los Angeles, where they own the Axelsson iron works.

The Axelsson boats on Newport bay are said to be valued at more than $75,000. They are the owners of considerable property in Balboa and on Balboa island.

SEAL BEACH WELL FLOWS 1000 BBLs.

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 18.—The Marland Oil company's Bixby No. 6 well in the Seal Beach district is producing at the rate of about 1000 barrels a day, clean oil, according to field reports. The well is bared out and came in last Friday, but took several days to clear up sufficiently to get an accurate estimate of production.

Bixby No. 6 is the smallest well yet brought in at Seal Beach, and is the fourth well to be completed by the Marland Oil company. With the exception of the Standard Oil company's San Gabriel No. 2, which is at about 1500 barrels, and dropped down to about 900 barrels, practically all the wells preceding Bixby No. 6 are making around 2000 barrels a day.

The Standard Oil company yesterday completed a water shut-off test in its San Gabriel No. 3 well in the Seal Beach field, and found it necessary to cement the well string again on production, according to official reports. San Gabriel No. 3 is down 4456 feet. The first cement job stood about 10 days before it was drilled out, and it probably will be another 10 days before another test of the well is made.

Welders Plan Shop at Atwood

ATWOOD, Jan. 18.—Forbes and Chris, welders of 513 Lake street, Huntington Beach, will move to their new location at Atwood, having completed the removal of their Santa Ana shop which was located at Prospect and Santa Clara avenue.

George Osborne, of Montebello, has leased a lot on Richfield boulevard just west of the Francis garage and will put in a forge shop.

Capt. McNally To Build New Boat

BALBOA, Jan. 18.—Capt. J. McNally, owner of a small fleet of repair boats, has started construction of a 25-foot power boat which will be modeled after the popular pleasure craft "Dixie." It was announced here today.

The new boat will be used for one day trips only. The "Dixie" and other boats owned by McNally are from 35 to 50 feet in length.

Scouts Guests Of Kiwanis Club

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—A special Boy Scout program with Ronald Dye, Orange county Scout executive in charge, was enjoyed by the Kiwanis club yesterday noon.

A court of honor with C. A. Marcy, assisting, was given for the benefit of the Kiwanians. Robert Finch, local Eagle Scout, showed the ceremony when the boys are given their awards. The club Dwight Goodwin told the members of the plans made for the Boy Scout drive which will be launched this week. The Fullerton Kiwanians are sponsoring a division in the campaign to raise funds.

Balboa Tackle Store Is Sold

BALBOA, Jan. 18.—Clifford Von Kennel and H. V. Smith, of this city, yesterday became the new owners of the Balboa Tackle store, located on the corner of Surf avenue and Main street, just east of the Balboa pier. The store formerly was occupied by E. "Doc" Howell.

Von Kennel and Smith have secured a three-year lease on the property and will handle fishing tackle and supplies. The property is owned by John "Dad" Schilling, who has been operating the store for some time.

ATWOOD

ATWOOD, Jan. 18.—Mrs. C. Shields, Miss Helen Shields and Mrs. Campbell drove to Ontario Thursday evening to visit relatives. Mrs. Mary Sheets and son, Howard, of Upland, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Mauerman Sunday.

Mrs. H. F. Taylor attended the pageant at Bowers auditorium Saturday evening and spent the week end in Los Angeles as a guest of Mrs. J. Gordon Boller.

BEACH BOARD VOTES PRIZES FOR BOAT RACE

NEWPORT, Jan. 18.—Hydroplane and speed boat races on Newport bay on January 30 received the approval of the city board of trustees at last night's session. In the city hall. The board voted $100 to be used as prizes in the hydroplane races and $25 for trophies to be used in the outboard motor boat races. The 151 class of speedboats will also race at that time, it was stated.

Approval was given E. L. Burroughs to erect a building on the northeast side of Balboa island. It was voted to expend $265 to erect a city bulkhead of a like nature to join the proposed structure with one erected by the Masonic homes. The city bulkhead would close the gaps left between two streets and an alley. The action was taken upon commendation of Paul E. Kresley, city engineer.

Upon the recommendation of Kresley, the board ordered the city clerk to communicate with the Pacific Electric company approving the suggestions made by the company. The suggestions include the improvement by the city of a strip 10 feet wide and approximately 400 feet long adjoining the tracks of the traction company from Thirtieth street to the city limits for road purposes with gravel. The city is to be granted an easement in return for a nominal assessment on the ground. The Pacific Electric would put in permanent improvements at a later date.

Advisory committee members in the matter of the harbor bonds, appointed at a previous meeting by Dr. Conrad Richter, board president, will be notified to hold themselves in readiness for a conference with the board regarding the proposed election, according to the decision of the board. The members of the committee are E. J. Longyear, of Pasadena; Dr. F. J. Blalough, of Anaheim; Joseph A. Beck, of Balboa; W. K. Parkinson, of Newport Beach; Harry J. Bauer, of Los Angeles; Dr. A. T. Covert, of Long Beach; Glenn Helms, of Newport Beach; James W. Mackel, president of the Orange County Builders' exchange, presented the matter of a uniform building code for the county to the board. It was decided to postpone action on the matter until the city engineer had passed on the code.

Dr. A. Scofield presented a complaint regarding the water in which contractors paving a street adjoining his home has destroyed a private sewer line extending across the street. The water committee of the board and the water superintendent were delegated to investigate.

Five precincts for the election at which the $500,000 harbor bonds will be decided on February 14 were decided as follows: Precinct one, John Roehrs' garage at 137 Thirtieth street; precinct two, city hall; precinct three, Newport garage; precinct four, fire hall; precinct five, Woodard's real estate office.

E. L. Howell was granted a change of license from 190 Main street to 400 East Central avenue. Upon petition of 58 per cent of the property owners on Bay avenue between A and B streets, the board ordered the city engineer to submit plans and specifications for installing five foot side walks and concrete paving.

Advisory committee was ordered to communicate with the city of Laguna Beach and the Irvine Ranch company of the intention of Newport Beach to protect its water supply from encroachments of the two water departments. It was pointed out to the board that Laguna Beach and Irvine water departments are drilling wells to take large quantities of water from the pool which supplies Newport Beach. Clyde Bishop, city attorney, stated that they would be permitted to take any amount of water they wished providing that the water supply of Newport Beach or any other established user was not affected.

Contractors To Start Island Work

BALBOA, Jan. 18.—Sparks and McCalland, Anaheim contractors, today were preparing to move a large crew of men and equipment to the island owned by Joseph Beck, just north and west of Balboa island.

Considerable work has already been done on the island, according to reports. Approximately 15,000 cubic feet of dirt has been moved. The contractors will be engaged on the island work for some time, it is expected.

Atwood Resident Pneumonia Victim

ATWOOD, Jan. 18.—O. E. Holland, owner of the Atwood Service station, died at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Orange County hospital, where he had been taken when stricken with pneumonia.

Surviving him are his wife, one son, H. V. Holland, of Anaheim, and a daughter, Miss Marguerite Holland, of Los Angeles.

$1,300,000 IS DISTRIBUTED BY ANAHEIM M. O. D. ASSOCIATION, MANAGER'S REPORT DISCLOSES

ANAHEIM, Jan. 18.—Revealing a year's business that was $4.11 per cent greater than the year before and brought returns to Anaheim and district estimated as more than $1,300,000, the annual report of J. H. Ritchie, secretary-manager of the Anaheim Co-operative Orange Association, a Mutual Orange Distributors house, was presented to the stockholders at their annual election meeting this afternoon.

Fruit sales during this period totaled in the gross, $1,503,070.05, growers receiving $1,122,843.89 in pool distributions and approximately $180,000 being spent locally for salaries and other expenses incidental to the handling of the crop, the report revealed.

Closing of the books for the year revealed a total of $54,452.05 to be refunded to the growers on the per box packing and selling charges of the year. This refund is to be made at the rate of 12 cents per packed box.

Shipments during the year were the largest ever handled by the association, totaling 114,589 cars of 356 boxes to the car, which is $23.51 per car or 34.11 per cent more than was shipped during 1925. The crop handled was as follows: Navel, 13,512 field boxes, 2,578 packed boxes; odd varieties, 2,578 field boxes or 1757 packed boxes; valencias (including off-bloom), 62,196 field boxes or 442,369 packed boxes; a total of 638,386 field boxes or 463,774 packed boxes.

An average price of $2.75 per packed box was paid growers for off-bloom, this price figuring $1.957 per field box, the report showed. Returns on other varieties shipped were as follows: Navel, $1.683 per field box or $2.375 per packed box; odd varieties, $2.619 per field box or $2.376 per packed box.

Following a policy of shipping every orange that was fit to eat, the association effected a pack out per centage of 71.10 per cent including all off-bloom, green and sweating fruit. Calages during the year were only 3.75 per cent, the report stated. Refunds for the pool distributions made during the year, Mr. Ritchie gives the Brodbeck packing system much credit for these results and estimates that use of the system represents a yearly saving to the growers of $50,000.

The year was one of the most successful yet experienced by the association and closed with the membership rolls showing a gain of 718 acres, Mr. Ritchie said this morning.

CANNERY PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—Many farmers in this district are busy planting spinach for the winter. Loblinger cannery, which plans to open its season for this crop in about five or six weeks. Nearly 200 acres have been planted in this immediate vicinity, according to H. L. Dalbey, manager.

Mr. Dalbey expects to have a sufficiently large crop of spinach to open its season for this spring. Following shortly after the spring canning season closes, the cannery will begin canning green beans, also raised in this section.

The Cutler-Loblinger cannery recently completed a very successful season on tomatoes, during which time more than 10,000 cases were canned. This is the first year that this plant has operated in Fullerton.

HANSEN

HANSEN, Jan. 18.—Little George Nordstrom, who was quite ill last week with pneumonia, is much better.

Mrs. Henry Morgan has been at the Community hospital in Anaheim over a week with pneumonia. Her two little daughters, Fern and Wanda, are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ketcham and daughter, Harriet, of Glendale, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McNinnis.

Ed. LeBell and wife, since their return from Oklahoma several weeks ago have been staying with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. LeBell, moved to Harding on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Birt and two sons, Maurice and John, of Huntington Park, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nordstrom.

The P. T. A. of the Savanna school will have its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, January 19. There will be a program, after which a social hour and luncheon will be enjoyed. The association extends an invitation to those interested to attend the meeting.

Mr. Burch, who is still suffering chest injuries received in an auto accident several weeks ago, is taking three months in Anaheim. Carl and Luveria Karr, of Clovis, are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan. On Monday while Carl was assisting Mr. Morgan with spring work, he had the misfortune to be kicked on the ankle by a mule. Mr. and Mrs. Raman Karr, parents of Carl and Luveria Karr, will move soon from Clovis to Harding, where they have rented a garage.

Emile Hein has gone to Feather River valley, where he expects to stay about two months putting out fruit trees on 20 acres owned by his father, August Hein, and himself.

Mrs. Walter Bitner, who was quite ill last week with the flu, is improved but her little son, Walter Jr. is sick.

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

THREE BOOKS REVIEWED AT CLUB SESSION

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Three books dealing with life during the last decade of the 19th century were reviewed for the Women's club yesterday afternoon by Mrs. C. F. Rowell, local club member, who is a former librarian.

The books covered the change in costumes, customs and general conditions from 1890 to 1900. The titles were as follows: "The Marry Decade," by Thomas Beer, "The Turn of a Century," by Mark Sullivan, and "The Perennial Bachelor," by Anne Parish.

Mrs. Leon Des Larzes supplied the entertainment on the program with several vocal solos. A rising vote of thanks was extended the two members for the program at the conclusion of the session.

Announcements of future events occupied the majority of time in the business part of the afternoon. Envoy V. D. Rhea of the Salvation Army was assured of the endorsement of the club in his fund campaign now being made in Orange.

Mrs. Jack Clayton, Mrs. B. D. Stanley, Mrs. E. M. Chapman and Mrs. Oldfield were appointed a ticket committee for the comedy to be presented in the high school auditorium by the Women's club same officers being re-elected. The comedy is called "The Singing School Begrimment" and is in charge of Mrs. C. R. Weaver.

A class in business law using the books of Mrs. Mab Copeland Lineman, who addressed the club recently on law, will meet on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in the clubhouse, it was announced.

Upon invitation of the Placentia Round Table club, the local Women's chorus will journey to Placentia January 19 to present a recital, according to an announcement by Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, president.

Mrs. Mary Brandriff led the club in the latest version of the flag salute. She explained the proper method of saluting the flag and urged upon the members the proper observance of flag courtesy as an act of patriotism.

W. Sanders, of the Citizens' National bank, Los Angeles, spoke on general business conditions. His attendance at the club on this occasion was unusually large. Guests were G. H. Green and Charles Rutledge, both of Brea.

Mack Senn, employed by the Shafter Tool works, has been expelled to be off duty for several days following an injury to his right ankle, when a heavy tool struck the ankle bone, inflicting a very painful wound.

Eleven tables of 500 were played at the card party given Thursday night by the Pythian Sisters of Brea. Prizes were won by Mrs. Rosalie Williams and Mrs. Myrtle Taylor. First and second prizes for the men went to A. E. Lyons and Jack Pfeiffer.

A three weeks' revival is being conducted by the Full Gospel Assembly church of Brea in rooms occupied by them in the A. H. Brown building. Members are being conducted by the Rev. J. M. Reb, who only recently came to Brea to take up the pastorate and will be held both afternoon and evening.

G. W. Bird and J. L. Allen motored Monday to Redlands, where they called on Jay C. Sexton, vice-president of the First National bank, and transacted some business.

Mrs. Ruth Zimmerman and her mother, Mrs. May Saunders, have moved from the Pierson property on West Cedar to the Clifford White home on South Madrona, where Mrs. Zimmerman will continue with her beauty parlor work. The Pierson house is being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Eason, recently of Anaheim, now owners of the Brea Progress.

Annie Michaels, teacher in the Brea grammar schools, is still confined to a private hospital in Fullerton under the care of Dr. Steen. According to reports, Miss Michaels is not yet well enough to receive visitors. Her home in the Graham property on West Cedar has been closed by friends and property is now to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudd, who are moving here from Fullerton.

Local Lions were delighted with the entertainment put on at their regular weekly luncheon in Boy Scout cabin Friday, when Mesdames Walker C. Davis, A. R. Burns and Frank Mason, assisted by Mesdames Albert Ward, Forest Hurst and Sandman, presented the famous Brea Baby Doll dance. Orchestra selections by the Metropolitan orchestra, a local club, meted out the address given by Hy

Burglar Steals Clothes, Radio

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Clothes make the man, it is said. Possibly one of those who so believed was the person who entered the home of Elmer Ensign, at 232 North Cambridge street, over the week-end, and relieved Ensign of a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes, a radio and loud speaker and various other personal items.

Ensign, according to a report on file at local police headquarters, believes the house was entered some time Saturday. Entrance was gained through a rear screen door. Officers Horace Inge and Fred Swayze investigated.

M. O. D. GROWERS HEAR SPEAKERS

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Operations of the Mutual Orange Distributors system and various phases of citrus culture were explained to the members of the Orange Mutual Citrus association at yesterday afternoon's meeting in the packing plant by speakers.

Burt Knight, assistant sales manager of the M. O. D.; Bruce M. Daniel, legal advisor of the association, and W. H. Blodgett, field manager, were the association speakers. Roy Bishop, farm bureau president, also spoke.

Preceding the speeches, the annual election of officers resulted in the same board of directors and the same officers being re-elected. This will make the third time the board has been named. The members are J. S. Snowden, president; John Bosch, vice president; H. G. Joost, secretary; L. F. Finley, manager; J. H. Stenson and L. D. Silver, directors.

NEW OFFICERS OF REBEKAHS ARE INSTALLED

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Installation exercises for officers elected by the Rebekah lodge in December and officers appointed early this month by the new noble grand were conducted last night by Mrs. John Crawford, of Santa Ana, district deputy, and her staff together with officers of the local canton of I. O. O. F.

Several prominent officers of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows were present to witness the installation, including Mrs. Fanny Lacey, past president of the Rebekah assembly.

Following the installation refreshments were served to the participants and guests by a committee headed by Mrs. Mina Vale.

The complete list of elective and appointive officers installed is as follows: Mrs. Edith Kneisel, noble grand; Mrs. James Chandler, vice grand; Mrs. Lucy Richards, financial secretary; Mrs. Bob Evans, recording secretary; Mrs. Anna Crawford, treasurer; Mrs. Madge Christianson, trustee; Mrs. Etta Cavett, warden; Mrs. Letta Kuechel, conductress; Mrs. Alma Coffey, chaplain; Mrs. Madge Christianson, right supporter to the noble grand; Mrs. Elsie Gillogly, left supporter of the noble grand; Mrs. David Lyne, pianist; Mrs. C. Shell, left supporter to the vice grand; Mrs. T. Shaffer, right supporter

EVENING SALUTATION

No satisfaction—at least no enduring satisfaction—can be obtained by the slogan, "What is there in it for me?" The greatest element of success and satisfaction you can get is from the slogan, "What is the best I can do?"—Senator James Couzens.

ENTERTAIN STATE C. E.

All Orange county should unite in making the state convention of Christian Endeavors the most notable convention of the many held by that great organization. Whenever and wherever the state C. E. has met during the past 30 years or more that it has been meeting, citizens have delighted in honoring the delegates and in making their visit something to be long remembered. We have a challenge to our hospitality, and it is a challenge that we will not pass by.

The value of the work of the Christian Endeavor, of course, needs not to be pointed out. Its value is too well known to need comment. For the good that it has done, for that alone Santa Ana as the 1927 convention city should exert itself in making the gathering the most outstanding of all the conventions of the state organization.

The churches, without question, will render their hearty support to the project. In addition to that, every club and organized body of the city and citizens in general should take pleasure in giving their support to those who are arranging preliminary steps for the big convention.

SAYS BADGES GAVE NO IMMUNITY

Will H. Marsh, former chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, now part owner of the Riverside Enterprise is evidently responsible for an editorial appearing in the Enterprise representing a news dispatch sent out from Sacramento saying that Marsh's successor had withdrawn 3000 special badges, spoken of as "immunity" badges.

Since the item came to The Register by regular channels and was published as news and since the item was used as the basis of an editorial, in fairness to Mr. Marsh, the following, from The Enterprise is published:

Under the provisions of Section 20 of the California Vehicle act the chief of the division was, by the legislature of 1923, authorized to appoint such traffic officers and inspectors as might be found necessary to enforce the provisions of the act. Proceeding under this authorization the head of the motor vehicle department took the first steps in August of that year to place a state-wide squad of enforcement officers in the field.

Contracts were made at first with twenty counties, and extensions were rapidly made until now contracts exist between the state and forty-five counties. With few exceptions, however, the counties were loath to put on a sufficient number of men to adequately patrol the highways. At this time less than 200 traffic officers are doing their best to protect the lives and property of those who travel on California's extensive highway system.

Those who knew the situation at the time admitted the inadequacy of such a limited force. Accidents were prevalent and men, women and children were being sacrificed daily. Sensing the need of more men upon the highways representative men of the state offered their services, were sworn in as deputies, and have rendered gratuitously valuable assistance in apprehending reckless and drunken drivers and flagrant violators.

In addition to those of the above classification numerous commissions were issued the highway engineers who desired authority to hold up overloaded vehicles, in an earnest effort to protect and preserve the highways. Many representatives of automobile insurance concerns were also sworn in as plain clothes men, and they in turn rendered assistance in apprehending car thieves.

No deputy inspector so appointed was ever granted immunity, or suggested that he should be, because of such appointments. The total number appointed during three and one-half years was exactly 375, as the records of the department will show, not 3000, as has been erroneously reported. And those 375 inspectors have had the same right to violate the speed, or other provisions of the act, as has a deputy sheriff to steal, because of that deputyship.

BRITISH RED INK

Deficit for nine months: $732,000,000. Not many business houses could operate long on such a showing. But that is the showing of England, according to her own official report just published. It is the answer to the mischief-makers who would interpret every happening as due to a malicious Britain of overwhelming power that seeks to swallow up a puny and foolish Uncle Sam. It is now amply evident that England has enough troubles of her own.

What causes such a deficit? The coal strike, as much as any recent factor. The ultimate cause, of course, is the war.

We Americans have got pretty well over the war now. To many of us it seems like ancient history; though we are still paying for it, and shall be for many years to come; it does not pinch us greatly. But on England and on Europe generally the war has laid an almost crushing burden.

CO-OPERATIVE MONROE DOCTRINE

According to a recent Washington dispatch, regarding the Mexican and Nicaraguan questions: "Probably the gravest issue is whether the Monroe Doctrine is going to be protected by voluntary co-operation in this hemisphere, or by the force of the United States alone."

Nothing seems to have occurred so far in Mexico or Nicaragua really involving the Monroe Doctrine, but there might be such developments at any time.

Mexico has been meddling with the Nicaraguan situation, but there is nothing in the Monroe Doctrine to forbid a sister republic to do that, though it complicates things for Uncle Sam.

If the Monroe policy is invoked at all, our people would probably prefer to see it applied, if possible, with the co-operation of the Latin-American countries.

for whose protection it is intended. Most of them have grown up now, and all have a natural interest and pride in helping to look after each other. That is the ideal of the Pan-American Union which we ourselves have fostered.

Los Angeles Anxious

San Bernardino Sun

Los Angeles is advancing a plan for congressional reapportionment by which districts Nos. 1 and 2 in the extreme northern part of the state would be consolidated and a new district created in Los Angeles, giving that county three Congressmen, instead of the present two.

How the rest of California will laugh. Los Angeles talks constitutional reapportionment in one breath and with the next discusses a plan to referendum any act of the legislature putting into effect the new constitutional plan for state assembly and senatorial districts as adopted by the people at the polls in November.

No county in California except Los Angeles would be benefited by the proposed change in congressional districts. Every county in California voted for the so-called farm bureau plan of state reapportionment except Los Angeles.

There is no doubt but that the population figures justify Los Angeles' claim for more representation in Congress. The 1920 census showed only 229,785 people in the first congressional district; whereas the two Los Angeles county districts, Nos. 9 and 10, had 420,172 and 516,253 respectively.

Under a general reapportionment of congressional districts the rule would be, based on the 1920 population, 311,535 for each district, and Los Angeles is therefore very probably entitled to three districts on the basis of the 935,455 total population in 1920.

It has been the custom, however, in California to make reapportionment of congressional districts when Congress provides for reapportionment of the country, which until 1920 always followed a new federal census. Congress gives no signs of acting.

The state legislature will now proceed to follow custom. There is no law compelling congressional reapportionment at this particular time.

Los Angeles has lost step with the rest of the state on several important state matters. Until real leadership arises in that city there will be no change in the attitude of even Southern California toward the great city of the state.

Half-Baked Citizenship

Oakland Tribune

Somewhat surprising is the statement recently made that while in the eighteen years of the history of the bureau of naturalization 4,800,000 aliens have made declarations of intention to become American citizens, only 2,400,000 have applied for their certificates of naturalization, of this number only slightly more than 2,000,000 being granted.

What is the reason for the apparent apathy in aliens in our midst to complete their naturalization? The director of the research bureau of the League of American Citizenship lists a few of the suggested reasons as follows:

First of all there are those aliens who do not proceed any further because they have learned from the experiences of other aliens that in all probability their applications will not receive favorable consideration. Then there are those who feel they do not know enough of the language, while others cannot present definite facts about their arrival in this country. Still other groups know they will not receive their second papers because they have not been able to bring their families to this country. In addition to these groups there is a normal percentage that must be subtracted because of death or because the applicants have returned to their native lands.

Other suggested reasons are the difficulty of applicants leaving their work by day to appear in court; sheer forgetfulness on the part of the applicants for citizenship and also ignorance, some aliens believing first papers are all that is necessary.

Evidently Americanization campaigns such as were energetically carried on during the late war are still necessary.

Learn Value of Co-operation

San Francisco Chronicle

It took a negative demonstration to show growers of juice grapes in California the need of a co-operative marketing organization. Last year the organizers of the Grape Growers' Exchange, becoming discouraged because a larger proportion of these juice grape growers did not join in the co-operative movement, abandoned their marketing activities. They gave up the practice, in effect for six years, of quoting a price at which grapes were to be sold. The result was that their grapes sold from $5 to $25 a ton less than the year before, although shipments in 1926 approximated 15,000 cars less than in 1925.

The experience of that one year without a marketing organization demonstrated the need of a central marketing body better than all the positive arguments made in the previous six years. The result was that although the Grape Growers' Exchange numbered but 500 members when it gave up the practice of fixing a price for its grapes, it had no difficulty in getting 1000 growers to join in a movement to resume co-operative marketing and price-fixing.

The growers engaged in this particular field of juice grape production have recognized that their interests are best protected when there is set up machinery to stabilize the industry and calculated to do distribute their crop that a fair price may be anticipated.

Watch for Orange Thieves

Redlands Facts

Orange thieves need to look "a leedle bit out." This part of the citrus producing section proposes that the theft practice, whether it be on a large scale or on a small one, shall cease abruptly. Last year the practice came to a sudden end when some thieves were apprehended and the justice of the peace handling the case saw the seriousness of the situation and plastered on punishments which met the situation. With the very beginning of the season this year, the practices began again. Operations approaching a wholesale scale were attempted. Immediately the procedure necessary to handle the situation was put into effect. Signs warning the thieves were put out, the officers were warned to be on the lookout and to stop and examine all truck or other automobiles carrying fruit. It is required that any person driving an automobile bearing citrus fruit shall carry with it a bill of sale from the house handling the fruit. Otherwise it is taken for granted the fruit has been stolen, and the driver must appear and show how he got his load. Redlands is determined in this matter and it is going to see to it that this part of the crime wave shall come to a sudden end.

Some Day He May Bring Home the Bacon

California Helps Feed the World

Pasadena Star-News

California's contribution to the tables of the world is not confined to fresh fruits and vegetables, which are shipped by the many thousands of carloads every year; nor to grain, beans, sugar, rice and nuts. The canning industry is one of the greatest in the state. Statistics furnished by the Canners League of California account for a total of 20,974,700 cases of fruit for 1926, this being approximately 5,000,000 cases more than the 1925 pack, which returned an increase of the same volume over the preceding year.

The vegetable pack totals 9,547,275 cases in 1926 against 8,572,891 cases in 1925.

No report is at hand relating to the fish pack for the past year, but it is known that its value ran into many millions of dollars. The state also is developing numerous specialties which are finding favor with epicures.

California has a remarkable variety of food products, but more than that, it is developing a veritable genius in the art of preparing these foods for market. This genius is an asset which encourages agriculture and horticulture and therefore is doing much to build up the marvelous resources of the Golden State.

California is drawing upon the central states, the gulf region and the northwestern areas of the country for certain food commodities, notably meat and dairy products, poultry and eggs, but it is not improbable, especially under the influence of more extended irrigation, that cattle breeding and poultry raising will be stimulated. At any rate, California makes a proud showing as a base of food supplies.

THE TWO VILLAGES

Over the river, on the hill,
Lieth a village white and still;
All around it the forest trees
Shiver and whine in the breeze;
Over it sailing shadows go
Of soaring hawk and screaming crow,
And mountain grasses, low and sweet,
Grow in the middle of every street.

Over the river, under the hill,
Another village lieth still;
There I see in the cloudy night
Twinkling stars of household light,
Fires that gleam from the smithy's door,
Mists that curl on the river shore;
And in the roads no grasses grow,
For the wheels that hasten to and fro.

In that village on the hill
Never is found or smithy or mill;
The houses are thatched with grass and flowers;
Never a clock to toll the hours;
The marble doors are always shut,
You cannot enter in hall or hut;
All the villagers lie asleep;
Never a grain to sow or reap;
Never in dreams to moan or sigh;
Silent and idle and low they lie.

In that village under the hill,
When the night is starry and still,
Many a weary soul in prayer
Looks to the other village there,
And weeping and sighing, long to go
Up to that home from this below;
Long to sleep in the forest wild,
Whither have vanished wife and child,
And hearth, praying, this answer fall:
"Patience! that village shall hold ye all!"

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles, based on the revenue act of 1926, written by the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue.

NO. 2

Persons whose net income for 1926 was derived chiefly from salaries or wages and was not in excess of $5000 should make their income tax returns on Form 1040A.

Persons whose net income was derived from a profession or business, including farming, or from the sale of property or rent, though the amount was less than $5000, are required to use the larger form, 1040. The use of form 1040 is required, also, in cases where the net income was in excess of $5000, regardless of whether from salary, business, profession, or other taxable sources.

Copies of the form are sent to taxpayers by collectors of internal revenue. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve the taxpayer of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax on time—on or before March 15, 1927—if the return is filed on a calendar year basis. Forms may be obtained at offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors, and will be forwarded on request.

The return must be sworn to before a notary or other person authorized to administer an oath. No charge is made for this service at the offices of collectors and deputy

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one-half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surplus on net income in excess of $10,000.

Grass Grows Over Fiume

Fresno Republican

Making a horse drink water that he does not want has long been considered a hard job. It is one that frustrates the best of men and nations.

There is a good example of it in Fiume. But a few years ago, this city on the shores of the Adriatic, up near the northeast corner, thereof, was the center of struggle of generals and diplomats, kings and poets. Italy and Yugoslavia nearly came to war over it. Cabinets at Rome were overthrown because of their activity or lack of activity about it. President Wilson, in the peace councils at Paris, had his most definite defeats in attempting to dispose of Fiume. The fate of the city brought to the surface the Pact of London and other pernicious bargaining among the powers in the World War. Gabriele D'Annunzio, sensation loving dramatist and poet of Italy, took possession of the city and defied the world, including his own nation, to separate the Italians of Fiume from their fatherland.

Fiume is an Italian town perched on the coast of a Yugoslav back country. As a port, it should have been an asset of the newly formed nation of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. As a home of Italians, their wishes should have been respected in making it a part of the Italian nation. The peace council attempted to set it up as a self governing entity, under the supervision of the league of nations. Finally Mussolini, as a part of his defiance of the most of the rest of the world, annexed Fiume, and the world acquiesced.

That is, everything acquiesced except the rock ribbed facts in the case. The only real value of Fiume was and is as a port for the back country, and this back country is all Slavic. The Slavic trade is going to Spalato and Cattaro and other less desirable ports, because they are controlled by and developed from Belgrade. And the Italian influences are working for the benefit of Venice and Trieste, the older established Italian cities. Fiume is Italian. But it is living to regret it. Its citizens are Italian by blood, and they are regulated by Italian police, but they do not share in Italian prosperity.

Grass grows in the streets and over the wharves of Fiume.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

UNITED STATES SENATOR DUNCAN U. FLETCHER OF FLORIDA, SAYS:

THAT a well conceived and wisely directed program of advertising is most important, if not absolutely essential, in promoting trade, establishing and conducting business, as well as in advancing the development and progress of a state, a community, or a city.

Whenever it is desirable to make known to as many people as possible the undertaking that is engaged in, the opportunities and advantages that would appeal to them, resort must be had to printer's ink and circulating mediums. Newspapers and magazines are read to an extent never before known. They reach more people than ever before and are not thrown into the waste basket usually until all matter, including the advertisements, are read. It costs some money but that is an investment precisely like putting in capital, paying rent, taxes and insurance, and just as necessary if progress is to be made or if there is to be success achieved. Of course, there can be extravagance which amounts to throwing money away. Also there can be the exercise of poor judgment in the character as well as the medium of the advertisement. But with those mistakes avoided, the returns and results will prove the wisdom of advertising.

ADVERTISING IS LIKE THE STRAW THAT IS NECESSARY IN THE MAKING OF BRICK.

Mud Pies

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

MANY parents have an ideal for happy, healthy children, but that's as far as it goes. They'd like to see their children cherry checked and radiant, yet every time the children have a grand idea to do something the damper of paternal criticism is placed on it because it's too much trouble or too bothersome, or too messy, or too risky, so that constantly the child experiences restraint and many times sits around unhappily instead of developing joyfully. Mud pies, for instance, are a most jolly and healthful play, yet how many mothers there are who will not permit the children to get dirty, who won't trouble to dress them in old washable things so that they may get blissfully dirty without being scolded, or who will not take the little trouble to collect equipment for such play, and then they wonder what's the matter with children.

WEVE a just pretend bakery in our back yard. Where on Saturday mornings we mix up mud pies. Brown ginger snap cookies all crusty and hard. And wonderful cakes most enormous in size.

We sift our dirt flour and stir up our pies. Then set them in rows on the fence in the sun, 'Cause that is our oven in which they must bake. Till poked with a straw, they won't stick and are done.

We have bags of stone raisins and grass cocoanut. And cans of seed spices to season our pies. We have candied red cherries of rose seeds, and all of the extra fine fixings cooks need for supplies.

We fill our mud pies, then Dan brings his gang. And says: "Can we buy fifty pies for five cents?" So we bake and we bake, while they have the most fun. A throwing mud pies at a hole in the fence!
